PAKISTAN GENERAL ELECTIONS
1962

CONTENTS

It would be invidious to make any distinctions but special mention must be made of the support given by Radio Pakistan, the Postal and Telephone, the Railway and the P.I.A. authorities who all rose to the occasion most willingly. Units of the Defence forces whenever help was needed from them also gave us all possible help in overcoming our difficulties of poor communications in parts of the country.

A word of thanks specially for the officers and men of the Department of Stationery and Printing including the Government Presses at Karachi, Lahore and Dacca. They worked at odd hours and on an emergency basis. Their cooperation eliminated the inherent danger of break-downs in our arrangements at a number of stages when we were confronted with the tricky problems involved in the printing of ballot papers, Rules, instructions, and various notifications while keeping within the time available.

The Deputy Commissioners and the Superintendents of Police are the backbone of administration. They gave us their best during these elections under the able guidance of their Commissioners and the Provincial Governments.

The Press has all along been keen to obtain " news " and showed a healthy desire to understand the problems involved in the conduct of elections. They came forward freely with suggestions and criticism which were both helpful and useful to us all along.

Most of the election petitions are still pending with the Tribunals and it will take some time before they are disposed of. We decided, however, not to await their disposal for this Report on the 1962 election.

This Report is, therefore, dated and signed Karachi, the 19th of December, 1962.

AKHTER HUSAIN,
Chief Election Commissioner.

CHAPTER I

THE ELECTION COMMISSION AND THE ELECTORAL MACHINERY

The Constitution provides for the appointment of a Chief Election Commissioner, for a term of three years, and for an Election Commission for every general election, Presidential election and Referendum. Article 153 provides for the appointment of Election Commissions and their functions. It reads as follows :—

"153. (1) For the purposes of—

(a) each election for the office of President ;

(b) each general election of the members of an Assembly; and

(c) each referendum required to be held under this Constitution, an Election Commission shall be constituted in accordance with this Article.

(2) An Election Commission shall consist of—

(a) the Commissioner, who shall be Chairman of the Commission ; and

(b) a Judge of the High Court of the Province of East Pakistan and a Judge of the High Court of the Province of West Pakistan, each of whom shall be appointed by the President after consultation with the Chief Justice of the High Court concerned and with the Commissioner.

(3) It shall be the duty of an Election Commission constituted in relation to an election or referendum to conduct the election or referendum, and to make such arrangements as are necessary to ensure that the election is conducted honestly, justly, fairly and in accordance with the law and that corrupt practices are guarded against."

2. The law also provides that the Chief Election Commissioner be vested with all the powers of a Commission during the period when the Commission is not constituted and also after the expiry of its term. Since the Constitution was announced on 1st of March, 1962 and it was intended that the Assemblies under the new Constitution should meet for the Budget Sessions it became necessary to designate the Chief Election Commissioner in advance of the promulgation of the Constitution. Mr. Akhter Husain was, therefore, designated as Chief Election Commissioner and he took office formally on the 1st of March, 1962. His swearing-in was the first act under the new Constitution.

3. As required under Article 153, Mr. Justice Masud Ahmad of the Lahore High Court and Mr. Justice Mujibur Rahman Khan of the Dacca High Court were appointed by the President, as members of the Commission, after consultation with the Chief Justices concerned and the Chief Election Commissioner, by notification No. Min. 108(1)/62 dated 10th March, 1962.

4. The Election Commission thus constituted held its first meeting on 18th March, 1962 in Lahore. In all, the Commission held 10 meetings of which 2 were held in Dacca, 2 in Lahore and 6 in Karachi. On completion of the General Elections, the members of the Commission relinquished their duties on the 30th June, 1962. They were in office for 104 days in all.

5. At the time the Commission came into existence, the spade work had been done by the Chief Election Commissioner's Secretariat, and the Chief Election Commissioner had progressed in the delimitation of constituencies the proposals for which were announced on 2nd March, 1962 and were finalised on 24th March, 1962.

6. The Commission was kept informed by the Chief Election Commissioner of the progress of delimitation and the Commission reviewed and approved the preparations made for the conduct of elections. The immediate problem that the Commission was faced with was the promulgation of the requisite Election Laws for which the drafts were ready. The drafts were discussed and recommended for adoption with certain modifications and the National and Provincial Assemblies (First Elections) Order, 1962 (President's Order No. 4 of 1962) and the Settlement of Disputes (First Elections) Order, 1962 (President's Order No. 13 of 1962) were accordingly promulgated as the main Election Laws.

7. The Commission undertook a constant review of the laws as preparations for the General Elections progressed, with the result that suitable modifications and removal of difficulties were suggested and these were incorporated into law by various Presidential Orders. A few Presidential Orders were also passed without their provisions having come to the notice of the Commission before they were promulgated.

8. The Commission also authorised the issue of suitable rules under the provisions of the laws and these rules were modified and added to from time to time as desired by the Commission.

9. The preliminary arrangements centred mostly round the issue of letters and instructions to the Commissioners, Deputy Commissioners, Returning and Presiding Officers, the electors and the candidates, all of which were discussed by the Commission and their issue authorised.

10. The Commission formulated the election programme after full discussion and also formulated and approved the issue

11. Suitable delegation of powers was authorised to the members. Broadly, the organisation of election arrangements was thus decentralised, each member being made responsible for action to be taken within his wing (East or West). The Headquarters Office took up the responsibilities directly for five Divisions of West Pakistan under the guidance of the Chief Election Commissioner, in exercise of delegated powers. The Chief Election Commissioner was also authorised to take such emergent action as may be indicated from time to time in ancticipation of the approval of the Commission.

12. In such cases which were not covered by specific " delegation " and which required consultations the Chief Election Commissioner or the Members had to be contacted over the telephone to secure concurrence to the mooted proposals.

13. All arrangements for elections were made with the approval of the Commission. The Resolutions of the Commission are given in Appendix I according to the subjects dealt with.

Registration Officers.

14. The electors' list for each constituency was prepared by the Registration Officer appointed by the Commission forthe constituency. He gave the list a final shape and distributed the relevant portions to the Polling Stations and made its copies available to the contesting candidates and to the public.

15. One Officer (from amongst officers of the Provincial Governments) was appointed Registration Officer for one or more constituencies and he was given the assistance of as many Assistant Registration Officers as were considered necessary.

16. In West Pakistan, a District Officer was generally appointed as Registration Officer in respect of Costituencies within his jurisdiction. If, however, a constituency extended over more than one District the Divisional Commissioner or an Additional Commissioner was appointed as the Registration Officer for the Constituency with the Deputy Commissioners of the respective districts as his Assistant Registration Officers. In East Pakistan the Sub-Divisional Officers generally acted as Registration Officers in respect of constituencies within their Sub-Divisions. In cases where a constituency extended over more than one Sub-Division of the same District, the Deputy Commissioner was appointed as the Registration Officer with the Sub-Divisional Officers of the respective Sub-Divisions as Assistant Registration Officers. In cases where the boundaries of a constituency cut across two districts the Divisional Commissioner or an Additional Commissioner was appointed as the Registration Officer with the Sub-Divisional Officers as his Assistant Registration Officers. The same principle was followed where two Divisions were involved in a constituency the Sub-Divisional Officers of the concerned Divisions acted as Assistant Registration Officers headed by a Member of the Board of Revenue as the Registration Officer.

17. Of the total of 450 Registration Officers 225 were appointed in each Province [illegible]

54 Sub-Divisional Officers, 16 Deputy Commissioners, 2 Commissioners and one Member of the Board of Revenue in East Pakistan. The number of Assistant Registration Officers was 49 in West Pakistan and 191 in East Pakistan. The Registration Officers were mainly responsible for the preparation and distribution of Electors' Lists and for general coordination.

Returning Officers.

18. The Election Commission appointed a Returning Officer for one or more constituencies, and as many Assistant Returning Officers as was necessary, from among the officers of the Provincial Government. The Returning Officers and the Assistant Returning Officers were responsible for the actual conduct of elections within their constituencies under the general or special instructions issued by the Commission and within the provisions of the electoral law.

19. The Returning Officers were appointed on the same principle as for the appointments of Registration Officers. In East Pakistan Sub-Divisional Officers, Deputy Commissioners, Additional Deputy Commissioners, Commissioners, Additional Commissioners, and Members of the Board of Revenue, and corresponding officials in West Pakistan, were appointed as Returning Officers. As the dates for the polls for the National and Provincial elections were aifferent, one person could be appointed a Returning Officer for a National and a Provincial Constituency but the same person was not appointed a Returning Officer for two constituencies of the same Assembly as the poll for most constituencies of the same Assembly were held on the same day. The number of Assistant Returning Officers, as compared to the Assistant Registration Officers, was small and such appointments were resorted to only where absolutely necessary. The total number of Assistant Returning Officers was 67. Out of this, 19 were appointed in East Pakistan and 48 in West Pakistan. A list of Returning Officers is given in Appendix II.

20. In 11 constituencies in West Pakistan the first appointments of Returning Officers had to be changed as it was not administratively convenient for the officers concerned to undertake these duties. In two constituencies where the nomination papers of two of the candidates were accepted by the Commission in review against the orders of the Returning Officers rejecting those nominations, the Commission considered it desirable to appoint other officials as Returning Officers. These cases were brought to the notice of the Governments concerned.

Presiding Officers.

21. Each polling station was under the supervision of a Presiding Officer who was assisted in his task by at least three Polling Officers. The number of Polling Officers was, however, allowed to be increased at a polling station where the number of electors was comparatively large. The appointments of Presiding Officers and Polling Officers were made by the Returning Officers who drew the personnel mostly from amongst Sub-Divisional Magistrates, Tehsildars and other gazetted officers of their Districts. 890 such officers served as Presiding Officers in East Pakistan and 413 in West Pakistan. No poll was held in 18 constituencies (7 National and 11 Provincial) which returned unopposed candidates.

22. The Deputy Commissioners being responsible for the maintenance of law and order within their Districts took sufficient care to detail small contingents of police force at each polling station within their Districts. These Police Officers remained on duty outside the polling station premises and at the disposal of the Presiding Officers. The police performed its duties well and no incident was reported of any attempt to disturb the peace in and around the polling stations. In Sukkur District of West Pakistan, however, one case was reported where a person in an attempt to overawe the supporters of the rival group fired a few shots. This incident took place at a distance of more than 400 yards from the polling station and the District authorities took prompt action ; the polling continued undisturbed. Police Arrangements.

CHAPTER II

DELIMITATION

As a preliminary step to the general elections, delimitation of constituencies was necessary as the elections were the first under the new Constitution.

2. The provisions of the Constitution bearing on the subject are contained in Articles 229(2), (4) to (7) and Article 239 which read as follows :—

" 229(2).—The members of the Electoral College of Pakistan shall be—

(a) the persons who are the elected members of Union Councils, Union Committees and Town Committees under the Basic Democracies Order ; and

(b) such other persons, representative of areas not divided into Wards under that Order, as are chosen in such manner as the Chief Election Commissioner may direct.

229(4).—The Chief Election Commissioner shall from time to time arrange the members of the Electoral College as constituted in accordance with this Article into groups so that there are one hundred and fifty such groups for each Province and the persons in each group represent, as far as is practicable, adjacent areas.

(5) The persons included in a group referred to in clause (4) of this Article shall be the constituents for one seat (not being a seat reserved exclusively for women) in the Assembly of the Province in which the group is included.

(6) The Chief Election Commissioner shall also from time to time arrange the members of the Electoral College as constituted in accordance with this Article into other groups so that there are seventy-five suce groups for each Province and the persons in each group represent, so far as is practicable, adjacent areas.

(7) The persons included in a group referred to in clause (6) of this Article shall be the constituents for one seat (not being a seat reserved exclusively for women) in the National Assembly.

Representation of Punjab in the Assembly of West Pakistan.

239.—The Chief Election Commissioner shall, for the purposes of any election of members of the Assembly of the Province of West Pakistan to be held within the period of eight years after the enactment of this Constitution, ensure that any grouping under Article 160 or Article 229 is so carried out that not more than sixty members are elected to represent persons in the territory known immediately before the fourteenth day of October, One thousand nine hundred and fifty-five, as the Province of the Punjab."

3. The delimitation was made the responsibility of the Chief Election Commissioner. The Electoral College was to consist of the elected members of Basic Democracies and wherever such institutions had not been brought into being the members of the Electoral College were to be chosen, to represent these areas, in such manner as the Chief Election Commissioner was to direct.

4. The limitation envisaged in Article 239 meant that, while the old Province of the Punjab was to have only sixty out of 150 seats in the West Pakistan Assembly, the seats to be allotted to that area for the National Assembly would, irrespective of these considerations, be on the same pattern as in the rest of West Pakistan. There could, therefore, be little correlation in West Pakistan between the delimitation for the National Assembly constituencies and that for the constituencies of the Provincial Assembly.

5. The first step was to indicate the manner in which the representatives were to be chosen where necessary as in Article 229 (2) (b). The areas concerned are Kurram Agency, North and South Waziristan Agencies, Mohmand and Khyber Agencies, Bajour including Utmankhel and the special areas attached to Bannu, Kohat, Hazara and Peshawar districts.

6. Some of these areas had Agency Councils, others had no representatives at any tier of Basic Democracies and yet others had B.Ds in a few localities only.

7. The Chief Election Commissioner decided, by an order issued on 22nd March, 1962, that the representatives of these areas shall be chosen through Tribal Jirgas. The numbers were fixed in each case. The political agents were entrusted with the duty of convening the Jirgas for the purpose.

8. With the completion of the Electoral College, the delimitation of constituencies was announced by Notification No. F. 3 (4)/62-ELS., dated 24th March, 1962 (reproduced in Appendix III.)

9. The tentative proposals had previously been worked out between 13th February, 1962 and 19th February, 1962 and given a shape under the direct supervision of Chief Election Commissioner—designate before they were published on 2nd March, 1962 for inviting objections and suggestions.

10. 288 objections and suggestions were received before the last date (12th March, 1962). The Chief Election Commissioner heard the interested parties in this connection, in Karachi on 23rd March, 1962, in Lahore between 19th March, 1962 and 21st March, 1962 and in Dacca between 15th March, 1962 and 17th March, 1962. In all, 102 suggestions were accepted and the proposals modified accordingly. By and large the proposals dated 2nd March, 1962 were found acceptable and only minor changes had to be made therein.

11. The principles kept in view as indicated along with the published proposals (dated 2nd March, 1962) may be quoted here :

"It has been my endeavour to keep the following principles in view while formulating the preliminary delimitation proposals :—

(a) Equality of representation within the limits of constitutional provisions.

(b) Convenience of electors.

(c) Administrative convenience.

The last two considerations have worked to modify the first and have basically been reflected in the keeping of administrative units intact for purposes of delimitation. Thus, generally, the Divisions in East, and West Pakistan have been allotted whole numbers of seats. The attempt has been, as far as possible to keep even the Thanas in East Pakistan, and the Tehsils in West Pakistan, unbroken. They have, of course, been split up wherever more than one seat could reasonably be allotted for a Thana or Tehsil or where but for the splitting of the Unit the resultant disparity would have been beyond reasonable limits. Wherever, a Tehsil has had to be split in West Pakistan the parts have, as far as possible, been so demarcated as to contain whole police station areas. In East Pakistan, however, there are no administrative units smaller than a Thana. Nowhere, in either Province, has a union been split into two or more constituencies.

In the tribal areas of West Pakistan, splitting up of Agencies was not considered feasible even though the result has been a considerable disparity inter-se. Wherever possible, suitable combinations have, however, been resorted to."

12. In East Pakistan, the problem was comparatively much simpler. There being 40,000 members of the Electoral College the average number of members of the Electoral College per Provincial Constituency worked out to 267. An almost strict adherence to this average gave a complete Thana, or a combination of complete thanas, as a Constituency. In no case was it necessary to split a Division, a District or even a Sub-Division. Only 41 Thanas were split as otherwise the number of electors could have differed unreasonably. The maximum and the minimum numbers of electors for a National Constituency were 576 and 461 and those for a Provincial Constituency they were 298 and 266 respectively. The average number of electors in East Pakistan for a National Assembly seat worked out at $2 \times 267 = 534$ and a constituency was obtained by combining two adjacent Provincial constituencies.

13. The problem in West Pakistan, on the other hand, was much more complex specially in the old Punjab and in the Frontier areas.

Punjab.—Due to different standards applicable to delimitation for the National and the Provincial Assembly seats from this area, the number of electors on an average were 561 for a National Assembly seat and 359 for a Provincial Assembly seat the difference being comparatively much smaller than in other areas. In many districts, local adjustments made the two almost equal.

Frontier Area.—The close tribal affinities and the peculiar problems of Swat, Dir, Chitral and Bajour as also of North and South Waziristan made it necessary for the constituencies to be carved out with the greatest care. The Agencies were given at least a seat each in the Provincial Assembly but there was no choice but to combine them for seats in the National Assembly otherwise either the Settled Districts would have suffered or the extra seats would have to be found by reducing the seats from Sind and Baluchistan. A compromise was arrived at so that tribal affinities could be given the maximum consideration possible. Wherever it could be so arranged the homogeneity of voters in a constituency was maintained. Where this was not done, luckily the seriousness of the situation was not apparent as elections were uncontested.

14. It was found that the operation of the Punjab formula (Article 239) resulted in a gain mostly for Sind at the expense of the Punjab.

15. While considering objections and suggestions to the delimitation proposals, every interested person was allowed to be present at the public hearings conducted by the Chief Election Commissioner. Discussions followed and the parties were invariably asked to make concrete suggestions which could satisfy all concerned. Wherever such suggestions were put forward they were accepted. Similarly, wherever obvious mistakes came to light as a result of objections or otherwise, these were also rectified in the final delimitation.

16. Generally, therefore, delimitation of constituencies was carried out to everyone's satisfaction and no complaints have since been received.

17. The Constitution, however, lays down that a new electoral college be created as soon as possible. When such a college is created the work of delimitation will have to be carried out afresh. The present constituencies will of course not be disturbed till the next general elections are conducted in due course.

CHAPTER III

ELECTION LAWS

The main law on the subject of conduct of elections under the new Constitution was promulgated by President's Order No. 4 of 1962, dated 23rd March, 1962, immediately before the finalization of delimitation of constituencies by the Chief Election Commissioner.

2. Suggestions in this regard were made as early as November, 1961. Further discussions were held as soon as the Chief Election Commissioner was designated during February, 1962. With the promulgation of the Constitution on March 1st, a final draft was proposed which was discussed with the Law Ministry and took the form of President's Order No. 4 of 23rd March, 1962. The Rules under the President's Order were made immediately thereafter by the Election Commission. As the system used for Elections is derived from this law, a short description of its main provisions is given below.

3. Single member territorial constituencies having been delimited by the Chief Election Commissioner, the Registration Officer appointed for a constituency from among officers of the Central or a Provincial Government is to undertake the preliminary work of preparation and publication of the Elector's List for the constituency. The List consists of names of constituents for the seat from amongst members of the Electoral College of Pakistan. The Registration Officer for a constituency continues to act as such and helps the other officials engaged in election duties. It is his responsibility to arrange to supply the Elector's List polling station-wise within the constituency.

4. The Election Commission calls upon the constituents to elect a person to fill the seat before a prescribed date and appoints a Returning Officer to manage the actual conduct of elections under the directions, general or specific, of the Commission. The Commission also notifies a schedule laying down the time table for the elections.

5. (a) The Returning Officer thereupon calls for and scrutinises nominations, selects and arranges the polling stations with the approval of the Commission, conducts the poll and submits the return to the Commission for publication of the name of the successful candidate in the official Gazette.

(b) The Returning Officer appoints the presiding and polling officers for each polling station, ensures that they know their duties, provides the requisite election material and arranges for the maintenance of law and order at the polling stations during elections.

(c) He also arranges the elector-candidate meetings wherein each candidate is given the opportunity to explain his programme to the constituents who also get the opportunity to question the candidates to seek clarifications.

6. At each polling station one ballot box is used at a time for all the candidates. The elector is issued a ballot paper on which the serial number, name and symbol of each candidate is printed. He marks the ballot paper in strict secrecy, folds it and inserts it into the box which is placed within the view of the Presiding Officer, the candidates and their election and polling agents. In this way the secrecy of ballot is maintained. The Presiding Officer holds the preliminary count immediately after the close of poll, the final count is held by the Returning Officer on the previously notified date soon after. Each elector is to take an oath before casting his vote that he will make his choice between the several candidates conscientiously and in the interests of the country. An elector who has not previously taken the oath is not to be allowed to cast his vote. An oath once taken, of course, need not be repeated before every election during the term of office of the elector.

7. The law prohibits canvassing on the basis of political parties, lays down strict limits of expenditure to be incurred by the candidates and specifies election offences and their penalties. It also lays down a disqualification for wives of persons in the service of Pakistan for being candidates.

8. The Commission is given certain general powers including the power to delegate its functions and to make Rules. During the period a Commission is not constituted or after the expiry of the term for which a Commission is constituted, reference to the Commission is to be construed as reference to the Chief Election Commissioner.

9. This procedure applies to the election to the general seats. As regards the seats exclusively reserved for women the Commission is authorised to apply, with or without modifications, any provisions of this Order to such an election and to conduct the election to those seats in such manner as it may deem fit.

10. Certain difficulties were experienced after the promulgation of President's Order No. 4 of 1962 and this called for an amending Order being President's Order No. 11 of 1962. The difficulties felt by the Commission were :—

(1) In article 16 of President's Order No. 4 of 1962, it was not made clear that the death of a "contesting" candidate only will mean termination of Proceedings.

(2) In article 32(3) (b), the mark to be placed on the ballot paper by the elector could be any mark that he chose to put in. As such the Commission could not prescribe the kind of mark to be used.

(3) article 37 provides that even on the close of the poll all (used and unused) ballot papers have to be counted. This was not necessary.

(4) In article 40, there was no provision for the return of deposit if the nomination of a candidate was rejected.

(5) In article 53, it was not clear that the deposit made at the time of nomination would not form part of election expenses.

(6) The Commission had no general powers to issue instructions and exercise such powers, including the power to determine the validity or otherwise of an act done or omitted to be done or to review an order passed by any officer under this Order or the Rules or to make consequential orders in order to see that the elections are conducted honestly, justly and fairly.

11. These difficulties were removed by the amending Order which also substituted article 60 in a new form by which the formation of a group or cell or a council or committee etc., or any other institutions by whatever name called for canvassing for a candidate or for any other candidate was made a corrupt practice, scope being given for any person to support any candidate in his individual capacity only.

12. The Commission pointed out to Government that the position with regard to disqualifications under Article 103 (2) (a) of the Constitution was not very clear and a number of enquiries were being received from semi-Government and local authority sources. The Commission asked for clarification, as a result of which President's Order No. 5 of 1962 was promulgated. This made it clear that full time employees of specified institutions or authority were disqualified and that anyone in whose favour a certificate of part-time employ was issued by the head of the institutions etc., could contest the elections but that if elected it would be within the competence of the institution etc. to terminate his employment. It was also clarified that persons performing public functions, and receiving remuneration for such performance, if they do so in addition to their normal vocations would be eligible for election.

13. The Commission found that in some cases nominations of candidates had been rejected by Returning Officers on grounds which need not have been taken into consideration or on a misunderstanding of the law on the subject. With a view to correct such actions President's Order No. 10 of 1962 was issued clarifying that the Commission has the power to review rejection of nominations.

14. The Commission felt some difficulty with regard to the operation of Article 104(2) which was remedied by President's Order No. 31 of 1962. Previously the Speaker could take cognizance only of a disqualification incurred by an elected member after his election. Order 31 enables the Speaker to take cognizance also of any disqualification existing (but overlooked) before such election provided the question has not been determined by the Election Tribunal. Such a case would then be referred to the Chief Election Commissioner and if he is of the opinion that the disqualification exists the Speaker has to declare the seat of the member concerned vacant.

15. President's Order No. 7 of 1962 clarified that persons detained for less than 60 days will not be disqualified while President's Order No. 8 of 1962 removed the disqualification from those who are out of Government service compulsorily for more than 5 years.

16. The Settlement of Disputes (First Elections) Order, 1962 was promulgated as President's Order No. 13 of 1962 on 29th April, 1962 and provided for the final determination by the Commission of appeals against rejection of nomination or against count by the Returning Officer, and of other election disputes by Tribunals to be set up by the Commission consisting of District Judges or Additional District Judges. This Order was promulgated under the authority of Article 171 of the Constitution.

17. This was later modified by President's Order No. 35 of 1962 to authorise setting up of Tribunals, for each Province, each Tribunal to consist of a High Court Judge and two members.

CHAPTER IV

TIME TABLE

Shortage of time.

The financial year in the country starts from the 1st of July. If the new Assemblies were to have the opportunity to consider the budgets it was essential that they should be in position early in June at the very latest. This gave the Commission only about two months in which to complete the election schedule after the delimitation of constituencies. It was therefore unavoidable that the time table had to be fixed without special reference to climate, availability of means of communication, pressure of work etc. As it happened the poll dates were more or less appropriate throughout the country.

Different dates of poll for the National and Provincial Assemblies.

2. The Commission decided that the poll for the National Assembly should be taken first on the same day for all the Constituencies and that the poll for the Provincial Assemblies should follow on a different date about a week later. This was considered the most feasible method which would involve less strain on the administrative machinery and was also desirable in view of the fact that no political parties were allowed to function for these elections. The fact that the electorate consisted of only about 81,000 persons throughout the country also minimised the climatic considerations for fixing the dates of the poll.

Programme.

3. As the law required that the Electoral College of Pakistan be grouped into constituents for each seat in an Assembly and the representatives of the relevant Frontier Regions could not be chosen by their respective Jirgas before the 30th of March, the proceedings for the conduct of elections in those Constituencies were delayed. Except for these Constituencies the programme detailed in the Table below (Second Column) was chalked out and started from the 4th of April and ended with the counting of votes and declaration of results by the Returning Officers by the 11th of May, 1962.

	National constituencies	Provincial constituencies	Excepted constituencies of Frontier Regions
			National constituencies	Provincial constituencies
1	2		3
1. Date for nominations	4-4-1962	4-4-1962	7-4-1962	7-4-1962
2. Date for scrutiny of nominations ..	5-4-1962	5-4-1962	8-4-1962	8-4-1962
3. Last date for withdrawals ..	10-4-1962	12-4-1962	11-4-1962	12-4-1962
4. Polling date	28-4-1962	6-5-1962	28-4-1962	6-5-1962
5. Date before which counting was to be done by Returning Officers.	3-5-1962	11-5-1962	3-5-1962	11-5-1962

The programme fixed for the excepted Frontier Regions constituencies is indicated in column No. 3 of the above Table.

Changes in dates due to termination of proceedings.

4. In two constituencies in East Pakistan, due to the death of a duly nominated candidate in each fresh dates had to be fixed.

Poll for both these constituencies was taken on 12th May, 1962. A similar case occurred in Karachi due to the death of a Provincial Assembly condidate. Fresh dates had to be fixed for that constituency also and polling was fixed for the same day as for the other Provincial constituencies. In another case in Chitral where due to temporarily bad communications the Returning Officer could not reach the place at which nomination papers were to be received, the programme had to be shifted slightly but this shift did not affect the date fixed for polling.

Review of rejected nominations.

5. After the date for nominations and scrutiny of nominations expired, it was noted that in a number of cases nomination papers had been rejected on flimsy grounds and for defects which were not of a substantial nature. A President's Order was passed to allow for the review of scrutiny orders made by the Returning Officers (President's Order No. 10 of 1962). It was provided by rules that reviews could be filed within three days of the Returning Officer's order or within such time-limit as may be fixed by the Election Commission. Care was taken to receive the review petitions and for their quick disposal so that the general programme was not dislocated.

Appeals and petitions.

6. The Settlement of Disputes Order was made into law on 28-4-1962. It provided for appeals to the Commission against count by the Returning Officers. The last dates for the receipt of these appeals varied from constituency to constituency according to the dates of declaration of results by the Returning Officers. These appeals were disposed of by 23-6-1962. The results were, however, published for the National Assembly on 9-5-1962. The Settlement of Disputes Order also provided for the filing of election petitions. These were received by the Commission and were referred to the Election Tribunals by 29-6-1962.

Programme for Reserved Seats.

7. With the completion of the elections to the general seats in the National and Provincial Assemblies the programme was drawn up for the election of members to the seats reserved exclusively for women. The programme is given in Table below:—

	National constituencies	Provincial constituencies
1. Date for nominations	17-5-1962	17-5-1962
2. Date for scrutiny of nominations	18-5-1962	18-5-1962
3. Last date for withdrawals	24-5-1962	24-5-1962
4. Polling date	29-5-1962	27-5-1962

It was conducted according to schedule and the results were published on 27th May, 1962, in respect of the Provincial Assembly constituencies and on the 29th May, 1962 in respect of National Assembly constituencies.

Assemblies meet.

8. The President and the Governors having called the Assemblies to meet on 8-6-1962 and 9-6-1962 respectively the Chief Election Commissioner administered the oath of office, to the persons elected to the National Assembly, on the 8th of June, 1962 and each Member of the Election Commission presided at the meeting of the Provincial Assembly concerned for the same purpose on 9-6-1962. On these dates, therefore, the Assemblies came into being.

CHAPTER V.

NOMINATION OF CANDIDATES

The law relating to the presentation and scrutiny of nomination papers is simple and does not require unnecessary particulars and declarations to be made by those filing the nomination papers. The object is to simplify the process and to eliminate chances of nomination papers being rejected on flimsy grounds. It is permitted to rectify minor defects at the time the nomination papers are filed or even at the time of scrutiny. This does not mean that a nomination paper cannot be rejected by the Returning Officer. He is required by law to scrutinize each and every nomination paper in order to judge its validity or otherwise. The Returning Officer adjudicates upon the right of a candidate to be declared qualified to contest an election after holding a summary inquiry, if necessary, if any allegations are brought against him by his rival. Simplicity of Law.

2. In exercise of the powers conferred by clause (9) of Article 229 of the Constitution, the Chief Election Commissioner directed that for paragraph (a) of clause (1) of Article 103 of the Constitution the following shall be substituted namely:— Qualifications for the candidates.

A person is qualified to be elected as, and to be, a member of an Assembly if—

"(a) he obtains a certificate from the Chairman of a local council, as defined in the Basic Democracies Order, or a gazetted officer, given under the seal of such council or the office such officer holds, that—(i) he is a citizen of Pakistan.

(ii) he is not of unsound mind.

(iii) he is a resident—

(1) in the case of the National Assembly, of any place in Pakistan.

(2) in the case of a Provincial Assembly, of any place of the Province concerned.

Explanation.—A person shall be deemed to be a resident of a place if he ordinarily resides in that place or owns or is in possession of a dwelling house therein."

3. Besides this basic qualification a prospective candidate must also be at least 25 years of age on the nomination day and must not be subject to any of disqualifications enumerated in clause (2) of Article 103 of the Constitution. These disqualifications are enumerated below:—

"A person is disqualified if— Disqualifications for candidates.

(a) he holds an office of profit in the service of Pakistan,

(b) he is an undischarged insolvent;

(c) he has, within the previous period of five years, been convicted of an offence by any court and sentenced to transportation or to imprisonment for not less than two years or been sentenced to death and that sentence has been commuted to transportation or imprisonment;

(d) he has ceased to be a citizen or has affirmed allegiance to a foreign state; or

(e) he is otherwise disqualified from being a member of that Assembly by this Constitution or by or under any law."

4. There is another restriction in so far as a person may not, at the same time be a candidate for election to more than one seat in an Assembly, or to a seat in one Assembly and to a seat in another Assembly. The National and Provincial Assemblies (First Elections) Order, 1962, disqualified the wives of persons in the service of Pakistan from being or being elected as members of an Assembly.

Notification by the Returning Officer.

5. In accordance with the instructions issued by the Election Commission appearing at appendix IV it was expected of each Returning Officer that immediately after the programme of elections to the National and the Provincial Assemblies had been notified by the Election Commission, he would also issue a notice under article 10 of the National and Provincial Assemblies (First Elections) Order, (P.O.4) 1962, inviting nominations to be delivered to him at a place or places to be specified in the notice between the hours of 9 O' clock in the morning and 5 O' clock in the afternoon on the nomination day for the general seats. The Returning Officers were asked to issue this notice at the latest on the 27th of March, 1962, display the notice on the notice board and publish it locally in a suitable manner. The notification with regard to the excepted constituencies of Peshawar Division was, however, allowed to be issued by the Returning Officers on the 31st March, 1962, as notification laying down a time table for elections in those constituencies was issued by the Election Commission only on the 31st March, 1962.

Supply of copies of Electors' Lists to Returning Officers.

6. The Registration Officers made available to the Returning Officer two copies of the Electors' List of the Constituency before the nomination day so that entries in the nomination papers may be verified at the time they were filed and later at the time of scrutiny.

Nomination Day.

7. The nominations were to be filed in a prescribed form printed copies of which were supplied to all the Returning Officers in adequate numbers. Even typed and hand-written copies could, however, be used if the printed forms were not readily available. A nominal price of anna -/1/- was fixed for each printed form. 20,000 forms were printed and 15,500 were distributed to the Returning Officers.

Who may nominate.

8. The nomination paper in the prescribed form was required to be signed by a proposer and also by a seconder. The proposer must certify that the candidate is duly qualified and has consented to the nomination. The proposer and seconder must both be electors in the constituency for which the candidate is nominated. Every nomination was to be made by a separate nomination paper and was to be accompanied by a certificate as required under Chief Election Commissioner's notification No. F. 1 (5)/62-ELS., dated the 7th day of March, 1962. The nomination papers could be delivered to the Returning Officer by the candidate or by his proposer or seconder on the nomination day at a place or places specified in the notice. The nomination papers could be delivered at the office of the Assistant Returning Officer if so specified in the notice provided the latter could make arrangements for the safe despatch of the nomination papers to the Returning Officer in time for the scrutiny. The scrutiny was done by the Returning Officer and not by any Assistant Returning Officer.

9. A person could be nominated in the same constituency by more than one nomination paper provided that no person could subscribe more than one nomination paper either as proposer or as seconder and if any person did subscribe more than one nomination paper, all such nomination papers after the first received by a Returning Officer were to be treated as void.

10. On receipt of the nomination papers the Returning Officer was to satisfy himself that the name and other particulars of the proposer, and of the seconder, as shown in the nomination paper were the same as are entered in the Electors' list and if he detected any error he permitted the correction thereof so as to bring it in conformity with the corresponding entries in the Elector's list. He could also use his discretion in ordering a particular clerical or printing error to be overlooked with regard to such an entry.

11. The Returning Officer was then to endorse on the nomination paper the name of the person presenting it and the date and time of its receipt and also hand over an acknowledgement to the person and inform him of the time and place at which scrutiny would be held. The Returning Officer then proceeded to display at a conspicuous place a list showing the nominations received by him and containing the particulars of the candidates, their proposers, and seconders as are shown on the nomination papers.

12. Each nomination paper was required to be accompanied by a receipt showing a deposit of Rs. 500/- in case of a Provincial Assembly seat and Rs. 1,000/- in case of a National Assembly seat. The deposits were made with the National Bank of Pakistan or at a Government Treasury or Sub-treasury. The amount in question could also be deposited in cash, by the candidate or by some one on his behalf with the Returning Officer at the time of delivering the nomination papers. Not more than one deposit was necessary in the case of any person who had been nominated as a candidate by more than one nomination paper. Wherever the deposit was made in cash with the Returning Officer a printed receipt was issued by the Returning Officer.

13. On the day, and at the hour, fixed for scrutiny the Returning Officer scrutinizes all the nomination papers. These proceedings can be watched by the candidates, their election agents, the proposers and seconders and one other person authorised by each candidate in this behalf. The Returning Officer is required Scrutiny afford reasonable opportunity to those present to examine the nomination papers delivered to him. If at the time of scrutiny an objection is raised to the acceptance of any nomination paper, or if the Returning Officer of his own motion so desires, a summary enquiry is held. The Returning Officer does not reject a nomination paper if the objection or defect in the nomination paper is not of a substantial character. The law requires an error of a clerical nature to be overlooked. A nomination paper can, however, be rejected on any of the following grounds :—

(i) the candidate is not qualified to fill the seat for which he has been nominated;

(ii) the proposer or the seconder is not qualified to subscribe to the nomination paper;

(iii) the signature of the proposer or of the seconder is not genuine;

(iv) the nomination paper was not signed by the proposer or by the seconder;

(v) the proposer or seconder was not an elector of the constituency for which he was subscribing the nomination paper;

(vi) the nomination paper was not substantially in the prescribed form and did not contain the certificate duly signed by the proposer that the person nominated had consented to the nomination;

(vii) the nomination paper was not accompanied by a certificate as required under Chief Election Commissioner's notification No. F.1(5)/62-ELS., dated the 7th March, 1962;

(viii) the nomination paper was delivered by a person other than the proposer or seconder;

(ix) the nomination paper was not delivered within the prescribed time;

(x) the nomination paper was delivered at a place or places other than the one mentioned in the notice;

(xi) requisite deposit was not made in accordance with article 12 of P.O. 4 of 1962.

14. The nomination paper, as would appear from the form prescribed is not required to be signed by the candidate himself. Fear was expressed that mischief could be committed by the rival candidates by filing nomination papers in constituencies other than the one in which a candidate had already been nominated by genuine proposers or seconders. Although such a case did not occur in these elections because of the fear that the person subscribing, as a proposer or a seconder, to a fake nomination would render himself liable to legal action, yet the anomaly could be removed by providing for the signature of the candidate on the nomination form in token of his having consented to the nomination.

15. A case also came to the notice of the Commission where nomination papers in respect of a candidate were filed in two constituencies. The Constitution provides that a candidate could not contest election at the same election from more than one constituency. This case could have formed subject matter of an election petition if the candidate in respect of whom these nomination papers were filed in two constituencies had been ultimately returned. The candidate was, however, defeated.

16. On the actual day of scrutiny, the Returning Officers took up the scrutiny in alphabetical order of the names of the candidates. If a nomination paper was rejected the Returning Officer took care to mention briefly the objection raised and his findings in writing on the back of the nomination paper. The rejection of one nomination paper, however, did not invalidate the nomination of the candidate by another valid nomination paper. At the close of the scrutiny a list of the names of validly nominated candidates was prepared in alphabetical order in English entering against each name the father's (or husband's) name and address of the candidate. A serial number was also allotted to each candidate in the order in which the names appeared. A list was obtained by the Election Commission from all the Returning Officers and another was sent to the Regional Election Commissioners by the Returning Officers concerned. The Returning Officers announced by public notice the time and date before which any candidature could be withdrawn. The issue of such a notice was not necessary in the case of unopposed returns.

17. The Commission was anxious to ensure that nomination papers are not rejected on frivolous grounds. The number of nomination papers rejected being quite small speaks well of the liberal way in which the proceedings were conducted by the Returning Officers.

18. The scrutiny of nominations was generally satisfactory. The cases where nomination papers were rejected without adequate and proper reasons were remedied under the provisions of the law which allowed the rejected nominations to be reviewed by the Election Commission. Altogether 32 cases came up for review out of which 25 related to East Pakistan and 7 related to West Pakistan. 12 of them were in respect of National Constituencies and 20 were in respect of Provincial Constituencies. The following table shows the position with regard to the presentation of nomination papers with the Returning Officers, their scrutiny and the state of rejections:—

Name of the Province with class of constituencies	No. of candidates filing nominations	No. of nominations filed	No. of candidates whose nominations rejected	No. of nomination papers rejected	No. of validly nominated candidates
1	2	3	4	5	6
National constituencies East Pakistan.	323	560	6	8	317

Provincial constituencies West Pakistan.	1263	2025	7	60	1256
Total ..	3199	5086	33	116	3166

19. The above table will show that out of a total number of 5086 nomination papers filed by 3199 candidates in respect of the National Assembly and Provincial Assembly seats both in East and West Pakistan 116 nomination papers were rejected. The number of nomination papers filed by women candidates for the seats exclusively reserved for them, numbered 162. Out of this aggregate, 48 were filed in East Pakistan and 114 were filed in West Pakistan, 106 of them were in respect of Provincial constituencies and 56 in respect of National constituencies.

20. The Regional Election Commissioners who acted as the Returning Officers for the zones for elections to the seats exclusively reserved for women did not reject any nomination paper. The list of validly nominated candidates shows the position in respect of National and Provincial constituencies both in East and West Pakistan for the seats exclusively reserved for women as set forth below :—

	No. of candidates filing nomination papers	No. of nominations filed	No. of nominations rejected	No. of validly nominated candidates	No. of candidates who withdrew their candidature

21. Some candidates were reported to have filed as many as 25 nomination papers.

CHAPTER VI

UNCONTESTED ELECTIONS AND WITHDRAWALS

The law, P.O. 4 of 1962, provides that in case only one validly nominated candidate remains after scrutiny under article 13 or after withdrawal under article 14 or after retirement under article 15, the Returning Officer shall by public notice declare that person to be elected to the seat and submit the return to the Election Commission which shall notify the name in the official Gazette. It will thus be seen that there are three stages at which the possibility of a candidate being declared elected un-opposed exists. The Law.

2. The first stage is the one immediately after scrutiny. In case there is only one candidate validly nominated he is declared elected and the Returning Officer has to inform the Commission immediately. Eleven candidates were returned un-opposed at this first stage. Of this number, three were from West Pakistan and one from East Pakistan, for the National Assembly Constituencies. Six of the un-opposed returns related to the Provincial Assembly Constituencies in West Pakistan. There was one such case for a Provincial seat exclusively reserved for women and that related to East Pakistan. There was only one Constituency throughout Pakistan where the rejection of the nomination papers of one of the candidates left one person in the field and he was declared elected unopposed. The reason for the rejection of the nomination papers in this case was that papers were not filed in time. The candidate whose nomination papers were rejected did not move an application for review. First Stage.

3. The law permits the validly nominated candidates to deliver to the Returning Officer a notice in writing, duly signed by them, before the time fixed, indicating their intention to withdraw from the contest. The Returning Officer causes notices of such withdrawals to be affixed on his notice board if he is satisfied that the signatures are those of the candidates proposing to withdraw their candidatures. A list of contesting candidates is then drawn up afresh in the same manner as the list of the validly nominated candidates prepared after scrutiny. The number of candidates declared elected unopposed immediately after the hour fixed for withdrawal on the withdrawal date was three in respect of National Assembly Constituencies—two for West Pakistan and one for East Pakistan and two in case of Provincial Assembly Constituencies in respect of West Pakistan only. The maximum number of contesting candidates withdrawing from a Constituency from amongst those in which contest did not take place was 8 and lowest number was one. Second Stage.

4. A contesting candidate could by notice in writing duly signed by him and delivered to the Returning Officer between the hours of 11 o'clock in the forenoon and 3 o'clock in the afternoon, on any day at least 10 days before the polling day, retire from contest. The number of retirements was three of which two related to Provincial Constituencies in West Pakistan and one to Provincial Constituency in East Pakistan. A table showing the Constituencies in which the candidates were declared elected Third Stage.

unopposed is set forth below. This statement will show that there were altogether 19 uncontested elections in the country :

5. There were cases where contests were given up by candidates during the period of 10 days preceding the poll, i.e. the period during which retirements were not permitted. There was no case in which after a contest had been given up by a candidate in a Constituency, only one contesting candidate would have been left in the field. If at all such a contingency had arisen the poll would still have been held as a contest given up during the 10 days preceding the poll is not to be treated as retirement.

6. According to the programme of elections issued by the Election Commission the last date fixed for withdrawals in respect of seats of the National Assembly Constituencies was 10th April, and in respect of the seats for the Provincial Assembly Constituencies it was 12th April, 1962. This gave about 5 days to the validly nominated candidates for National Assembly seats, and almost 7 days to those for Provincial Assembly seats, to decide whether they would continue the contest. The day on or before which the candidature could be withdrawn by the candidates in case of the excepted constituencies of Peshawar Division was 11th April, 1962 in respect of the National Assembly seats. The last date on or before which the candidature for the Provincial Assembly seat could be withdrawn was the 12th April, 1962, even in case of the above mentioned excepted constituencies.

Procedure.

7. The Returning Officers gave notice of the actual time before which any candidature could be withdrawn on the withdrawal date. The last hour by which the candidature could be withdrawn thus varied from constituency to constituency.

8. Any candidate validly nominated could by notice in writing signed by him and delivered to the Returning Officer before the time fixed withdraw his candidature. This could be done by serving a notice in person by the candidate or by an agent authorised in this behalf in writing by him. The notice of withdrawal is irrevocable. The Returning Officer has to fix at some conspicuous place at his office a copy of the notice of withdrawal immediately on its receipt, if he is satisfied that the signature on the notice is that of the candidate. Immediately after the expiry of the time fixed for withdrawal, the Returning Officer proceeds to prepare a list of contesting candidates whose candidatures have not been withdrawn. This list also indicates the symbol allotted to each candidate by the Returning Officer. As time for the printing of ballot papers was short the Returning Officers were advised to send their lists of validly nominated candidates to the District Magistrates of their Districts. The Deputy Commissioners were requested to send these lists by special messengers in respect of all the constituencies within their districts so that the ballot papers could be printed expeditiously and returned through the same messengers.

9. Out of 713 candidates validly nominated for elections to the National Assembly Constituencies 104 withdrew their candidatures in time. Of these 24 belonged to East Pakistan and 80 to West Pakistan.

Withdrawals on the low side.

10. For the Provincial Assembly seats the number of validly nominated candidates was 2,453. Of them as many as 560 withdrew their candidatures. Of these 194 belonged to East Pakistan and 366 to West Pakistan. The number of withdrawals was thus not on the high side. This was due to the fact that the elections were not fought on party lines. The other reason which could be assigned to meagre number of withdrawals is the fact that the limited size of the electorate encouraged every candidate to muster support of the small requisite number of electors needed for success. This tendency was noticeable in almost all the constituencies. In one constituency where the number of candidates was the largest, i.e. thirty one, only one candidate withdrew his candidature. A table providing information in respect of withdrawals in respect of the constituencies, both National and Provincial, is given in Appendix V.

CHAPTER VII

ELECTORS' LISTS

Electoral College.

Provision has been made in Articles 155 to 158 of the Constitution for the formation of an Electoral College, based on adult franchise, the members of which are to act as voters in elections for the office of the President and for membership of the National and Provincial Assemblies.

2. Temporary provision has, however, been made in Article 229 of the Constitution that till the creation of an Electoral College as mentioned above, the Electoral College of Pakistan is to consist of—

(a) the persons who were the elected members of the Union Councils, Union Committees and Town Committees under the Basic Democracies Order ; and

(b) such other persons representative of areas not divided into Wards under that Order, as are chosen in such manner as the Chief Election Commissioner may direct.

3. The members of local councils as in (a) above had already been elected in 1959, the representatives of the areas left out were to be determined under (b) above. The Chief Election Commissioner, therefore, issued an order on the 22nd March, 1962, which is reproduced below :—

" In pursuance of the provisions of paragraph (b) of clause (2) of Article 229 of the Constitution the Chief Election Commissioner is pleased to direct that persons, representatives of areas mentioned below shall be chosen to the extent and in the manner indicated against each :

(1) Kurram Agency.—The representatives of areas outside the existing Union Councils, Union Committees and Town Committees shall be chosen through Tribal Jirgas in such numbers that the electors in the whole agency shall be 150 in number (including the elected members of the Union Councils, Union Committees and Town Committees).

(2) Special area attached to Kohat District.—There shall be 125 electors to be chosen through Tribal Jirgas.

(3) North Waziristan Agency.—The existing non-official members of the Agency Council shall be electors in addition to the elected members of the Town Committees which have been constituted under the Basic Democracies Order in this agency.

(4) South Waziristan Agency.—The existing non-official members of the Agency Council shall be electors in addition to the elected members of the Town Committees which have been constituted under the Basic Democracies Order in this Agency.

(5) Mohmand Agency.—There shall be a hundred electors to be chosen through Tribal Jirgas.

(6) Khyber Agency.—There shall be two hundred electors to be chosen through Tribal Jirgas.

(7) Bajaur including Utmankhel.—There shall be 170 electors to be chosen through Tribal Jirgas.

(8) Special area attached to Hazara District.—There shall be 150 electors to be chosen through Tribal Jirgas.

(9) Special area attached to Peshawar District.—There shall be 36 electors to be chosen through Tribal Jirgas.

(10) Special area attached to Bannu District.—The representatives of the areas not covered by Dhanna Bhattani Union shall be chosen through Tribal Jirgas so that they along with the elected members of the Dhanna Bhattani Union total 37.

Note: 1. The Jirgas shall be convened for the purpose mentioned above by the Political Agents concerned.

2. It shall be ensured that no area is represented by more than one elector."

4. It will be observed that the areas wherefrom this part of the Electoral College was drawn consist of the Agencies of Kurrum, Mohmand, Khyber, Malakand, North Waziristan and South Waziristan and those Special Areas which are attached to the various settled districts in the North West Frontier Regions. The final shape of the Electoral College gave 40,000 electors in East Pakistan and 41,841 in West Pakistan. A statement showing the number of electors per constituency is at Appendix VI.

Manuscript copies of electors' list.

5. The district officers were informed as early as in the last week of February, 1962 that the rolls to be used for elections to the Provincial and National Assemblies were likely to consist of the lists of elected members of the Primary Basic Democracies. They were, therefore, asked to keep them up-to-date so as to be ready for use at short notice. The district officers were also advised to ensure that no bye-elections to Primary Basic Democracies are left pending within their districts. This was necessary to ensure that the Electors' lists were as complete as possible.

6. The district officers were also informed that with the finalisation of delimitation of constituencies the lists will have to be arranged constituency-wise and finalised as such with reference to the date the constituencies are called upon to elect their representatives to the Assemblies. They were asked to prepare six copies for each district. This number included one copy for the Regional Election Commissioner concerned and one for the Election Commission. Of the rest one was to be for use by the Registration Officer of the National constituencies and the other for the Registration Officer of the Provincial constituencies within the district. The Registration Officers were ultimately to print up-to-date lists of their constituencies on the basis of authenticated information received from the district officers. As the district officers in West Pakistan and the Sub-Divisional Officers in East Pakistan were appointed Registration Officers there was no difficulty in getting the Electors' lists printed from the manuscript copies which were already prepared by them in advance.

Registratio Officers.

7. A Registration Officer was appointed for each constituency. In most of the cases the same officer acted as Registration Officer for two or more constituencies. Thus a District Officer in West Pakistan and a Sub-Divisional Officer in East Pakistan acted as a Rregistration Officer in respect of almost all the constituencies—Provincial and National within the District/ Sub-Division. Instructions for the guidance of Registration Officers were issued on 16th/ 17th March, 1962 and are at Appendix VII.

8. One of the important duties of each Registration Officer was to print the Electors' list of his constituency. Lists for a whole district were ready prepared by the District Officer. Each Registration Officer was advised to take from this list that portion which covered his constituency. If a constituency covered two districts the relevant portions of the list had to be obtained by the Registration Officer from the two Deputy Commissioners.

9. The final list of constituencies was published on the 24th March, 1962. The Registration Officers were telegraphically informed of the modifications that had been made in the draft proposals published originally on 2nd March, 1962. Where no changes were made they were informed of the fact. It was thus possible for them to compile the constituency lists quickly and to display these lists for public inspection in their offices on 26th March, 1962. The law required that the list should be published within the constituency. If the Registration Officer's office happened to be outside the territorial limits of one of his constituencies the list for the constituency was also published at a suitable place within the constituency.

10. One hundred copies of each constituency list were printed by each Registration Officer. Two copies of the list were supplied to the Election Commission, two to the Regional Election Commissioner of the province and two to the Returning Officer of the constituency. The two extra copies given to the Returning Officer for use at the polling stations contained the names of the electors arranged polling station-wise. If the relevant portion could not be separated a red pencil was to run through the portion that was not required. The Registration Officer had instructions to check carefully that the portion required for a polling station had not been crossed out and that the portion not crossed out contained the names of all the constituents of the polling station area. The Registration Officer had to mark the polling station, name and number in his own handwriting and under his signature on each copy.

Corrections to be authenticated.

11. The Registration Officers were directed to exercise due care to see that lists were printed accurately and without mistakes. Any mistake in print detected by the Registration Officers on comparison was corrected under the signature and official seal of the Registration Officer. The printed copies of the list were on sale to the public on and after 1st April, 1962.

Form of the roll.

12. The form in which the Electors' list of a constituency was to be prepared was prescribed (Appendix VIII). The list contained the names of the Union Councils, Town Committees and Union Committees arranged in alphabetical order

The names of Electors from each such Basic Democracy were again arranged alphabetically and were also given running serial numbers. The name of the elector was to appear in Urdu (Arabic script) in case of West Pakistan and in Bengali in case of East Pakistan in front of the entries in the column containing the elector's name in English. Two more columns were provided in which were entered the address and the parent's (or husband's) name of the elector. In case an elector's seat was vacant an indication to that effect was given in the list by inserting the word " vacant " in the appropriate column. The names of the Basic Democracies in West Pakistan were arranged tehsil-wise and those in East Pakistan thana-wise. At the end of each Electors' list a summary was appended in the prescribed form under the Registration Officer's signature and seal.

13. The Deputy Commissioners certified that names of all members of primary Basic Democracies who had been elected as such upto 24th March, 1962 were included in the manuscripts prepared by them. This was done irrespective of whether the names were gazetted or not as publication in the gazette was not a legal requirement. It was ensured that nominated members were not brought on to the Electors' lists.

14. In case of the areas where the Electoral College was chosen by the Jirgas in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution and in pursuance of the directions issued by the Chief Election Commissioner in this behalf, the names of the members so chosen were also included in the respective lists.

Printing of the lists.

15. As the time at the disposal of the Election Commission was very short it was not possible to have the Electors' lists of all the constituencies printed through the Government Presses at Karachi, Lahore and Dacca. It was, therefore, considered expedient to authorise the Registration Officers to have their lists printed locally. These lists varied in size from constituency to constituency according to the number of electors contained in each. The maximum number of electors contained in a list in respect of National constituencies in East and West Pakistan respectively was 576 and 803 and the minimum number was 461 in the case of East Pakistan and 234 in the case of West Pakistan. In respect of Provincial constituencies the maximum and minimum number of electors in East Pakistan was 298 and 266, and the same figures in a Provincial constituency in West Pakistan were 593 and 100 respectively. In a few cases difficulty was experienced in having the lists printed locally at short notice and the copies were instead cyclostyled.

Price for sale.

16. The Registration Officers were authorised to sell the printed copies of the Electors' lists at a flat rate of annas two per page. The sale proceeds were deposited to the credit of the Election Commission. To meet the expenditure involved in printing, a sum of Rs. 300 per constituency was placed at the disposal of the Registration Officers in West Pakistan. The rolls for the National Assembly constituencies and Provincial Assembly constituencies were printed separately. One hundred copies of each list were printed. In case of East Pakistan, however, the roll for each Provincial constituency was printed in 200 copies. Copies of each of the two relevant Provincial constituency lists were tacked together to form the copies required for a National constituency. The Registration Officer of the constituency indicated clearly the number and name of each National constituency. A sum of Rs. 800 for the printing of 200 copies of every Provincial constituency was made available. In actual practice adjustments had to be made as there were wide variations in the rates of printing arranged by the various Registration Officers. The Registration Officers had taken sufficient care to see that the printing was done in a proper and correct manner. Printing on the whole was satisfactory and no complaints about omission of names or misspellings were reported.

17. Appendix IX will show that the total expenditure incurred on the printing of lists was Rs. 1,24,117 ; the expenditure in East Pakistan being Rs. 56,405 and that in West Pakistan Rs. 67,712.

18. The income from sale proceeds of the lists was Rs. 21,726.

CHAPTER VIII

ELECTION MATERIAL

In the list of election material to be supplied for use at the polling stations, the ballot box and the ballot paper are the two major items which attract public attention and upon the proper use of which the efficiency of the poll depends. The law lays down that the ballot box to be used for elections should be of such material and design as may be specified by the Election Commisson. The Commission was anxious that the boxes to be used in the elections should be of such material and design as to inspire public confidence and that so far as practicable they should be such as to make tampering without detection an impossibility. The steel ballot boxes prepared in 1957 had been tried once at the time of the Presidential ballot and had proved their utility. These were approved for use. Ballot boxes.

2. Every ballot box measures 9″ × 7-1/2″ × 8″, its lid being fixed by inside hinges. The box contains a mechanical device which has been so framed that when the lid is locked from inside, the ballot box is in the balloting position. The ballot box, after it is shown, as empty to the candidates and the polling agents at the polling stations, is sealed by the Presiding Officer and kept within his view and within the view of the polling agents present. Once the ballot box is in the balloting position the box could not be opened wihout breaking open the inner seal. The Commission took care to ensure that the instructions for the operation of the ballot boxes were fully understood and strictly followed by all Presiding Officers. The printed instructions for the operation of the ballot boxes were carefully revised in order to make them quite clear. They were re-printed and distributed widely. The Returning Officers had the operation of the ballot boxes physically demonstrated to the Presiding Officers so that they could follow the instructions relating to the handling, closing, sealing and opening of the ballot boxes without difficulty. The polling agents also understood the mechanical processes of opening and closing these ballot boxes. At rehearsals for the polls, demonstrations for the use of the ballot boxes were arranged. The ballot boxes were lying in the godowns of the Election Commission at Dacca, Lahore and Karachi ever since they were manufactured in 1957. A check of these ballot boxes, before they were despatched to the districts, was carried out and each ballot box was cleaned and greased and sent out only if it was in perfect working condition.

3. At least four ballot boxes were supplied to each polling station although only one was to be used at a time. Besides this number a District reserve was maintained to meet any emergency. Precautions were taken to see that the ballot boxes were not damaged in transit, for which the Railway authorities cooperated by issuing instructions to their station staff to handle the ballot boxes with utmost care and expedition. While the ballot boxes were supplied all over East Pakistan by the Regional Election Commissioner, Dacca, in West Pakistan the Karachi office supplied the Southern Divisions of Karachi, Quetta, Kalat, Hyderabad, Khairpur and Bahawalpur while the requirements for the remaining Divisions were met from Lahore. A table showing the district-wise distribution of ballot boxes is given below :—

4. The ballot boxes are still lying in the districts so as to be ready for use at the time of bye-elections.

5. The details about the ballot papers have been furnished in a separate chapter. The system of marking the ballot paper obviates the need to use a separate ballot box for each candidate. Since the ballot box is placed within the view of the Presiding Officer and the polling agents, it is ensured that the ballot paper issued to an elector is not taken outside for sale or for disposal otherwise. The system also allows of the counting of votes immediately after the close of the poll nor can there be any mishandling of the ballot papers as the entire process (except for the secret marking of the ballot paper by the elector) is carried out in the presence of all the parties concerned. The incidence of mistakes of marking in these first elections was not generally high and could further be reduced as the electors get used to it.

The number of ballot papers supplied division-wise in East and West Pakistan is given in the table below :—

6. A total of 2,73,575 ballot papers were printed for distribution among the Returning Officers.

Seals.

7. The use of a seal at each polling station was prescribed. The purpose of using the seal which bore a code number, for marking the back of the ballot paper before it was issued by the Presiding Officer to an elector, was to check at a glance whether the folded piece of paper being cast into the ballot box placed on the Presiding Officer's table was the issued ballot paper or not. Separate seals for National and Provincial Assembly elections each bearing a separate code number were supplied to the Presiding Officers. The impression of the seals was termed in legal phraseology as the " official mark " within the meaning of article 32 of the National and Provincinal Assemblies (First Elections) Order, 1962.

Other polling material.

8. As stated earlier, West Pakistan was split up into two zones viz. the Northern zone and the Southern zone for the distribution of all election material. Requirements of election material of the former zone was met from Lahore by the Regional Election Commissioner and the Election Commission at Karachi catered to the needs and reqirements of the Southern zone. This was considered necessary in order to overcome the administrative difficulties which otherwise would have arisen to hamper the smooth distribution of the election material if in the short time available for the conduct of elections all Returning Officers in West Pakistan had to depend on the Regional Election Commissioner at Lahore for the expeditious supply of material, literature and instructions. All the requirements of material for the whole of East Pakistan were met by the Dacca Regional Office.

9. The following material, besides the ballot boxes, ballot papers and seals, was supplied by the Election Commission :—

1. Nomination Forms.
2. Register for the maintenance of accounts of deposits.
3. Copying pencils for Quetta, Kalat, Peshawar and D. I. Khan Divisions of West Pakistan.
4. Result sheet Forms.
5. Preliminary count Forms.
6. Envelopes of different sizes and categories.
7. Posters.
8. Symbol Charts.
9. Instructions for the operation of the ballot boxes.
10. Instructions for Presiding Officers.
11. Instructions for Returning Officers.
12. Instructions for Registration Officers.
13. Ink pads.

10. The Returning Officers were advised to arrange for the rest of the stationery locally and to supply it to the polling stations direct. A sum of Rs. 45 per polling station was allocated for this purpose. The list of articles supplied by the Returning Officers to the polling stations is given below :—

1. Wire or string for the sealing of ballot box.
2. Candle.
3. Sealing Wax.
4. Seal.
5. Match box.
6. One quire foolscap size paper.
7. Lead pencils.
8. Red and Blue pencils.

   Copying pencils—at least six of the same colour for marking the ballot paper by electors (supplied by the Election Commission to the Divisions of Peshawar, D. I. Khan, Quetta and Kalat only).

10. Ink pots.
11. Ink Blue Black.
12. Carbon papers.
13. Blotting paper.
14. Envelopes ordinary small and large
15. Pins.
16. Pen holders.
17. Nibs.
18. Knife.
19. Scissors.
20. Gum bottles with gum and brush.
21. Clips.
22. Packing paper.
23. Bags for holding the sealed packets to be sent to Returning Officer.
24. Needles.
25. Thread.
26. Sutli.

11. In addition to the above articles, the Returning Officers took care to supply sufficient copies of the elector's list and a list of local councils served by each polling station and the requisite articles of furniture.

CHAPTER IX

BALLOT PAPER

Ballot paper.

The law lays down that every elector shall cast his vote by means of a ballot paper. The ballot paper has to be in such form as is specified by the Commission, so that no ballot paper would bear a number or any such mark as may distinguish one ballot paper from another ballot paper.

Particulars on the ballot paper.

2. A facsimile of the ballot paper will show the design of the ballot paper which had the serial number of each contesting candidate and his name printed on it. The names of the contesting candidates were printed in Bengali in case of East Pakistan and those of the contesting candidates from West Pakistan were printed in Urdu. The symbol allotted to each candidate was printed against his name. In the next column by the side of the symbol, a space in the form of a square was left blank. This space was meant for marking the ballot paper. A cross mark in any form, and no other mark, was to be put by an elector as indicative of his intention that he wanted to vote in favour of that candidate. There were, therefore, as many blank squares in a ballot paper as the number of contesting candidates in the constituency. The names on the ballot paper were arranged in alphabetical order.

The counterfoil.

3. The serial number of the ballot paper and the number of the constituency was printed on the counterfoil which also provided space for the serial number of the elector as on the electors' list, for the signature (or thumb impression) of the elector and for the Presiding Officer's signature. It was also to be mentioned on the counterfoil whether the elector had already taken the oath or if not, that the oath was administered to him by the Presiding Officer.

Size of ballot paper.

4. The size of the ballot paper naturally varied from constituency to constituency depending on the number of contesting candidates in each constituency. In East Pakistan where the number of contesting candidates in most of the constituencies was not very high standard sizes could be adopted for the preparation of ballot papers. Ballot papers of the following three sizes were generally used in East Pakistan :

(1) $6\frac{1}{2}$ in. × $3\frac{1}{4}$ in. .. Where the number of contesting candidates was between 2 and 5.

(2) 13 in. × $3\frac{1}{4}$ in. .. Where the number of contesting candidates was between 6 and 10.

(3) 19 in. × $3\frac{1}{4}$ in. .. Where the number of contesting candidates was between 11 and 15.

5. The width of the ballot paper in East Pakistan uniformally remained at $3\frac{1}{4}$ in. exclusive of the counterfoil. In West Pakistan no uniformity in the matter of size could be introduced as the number of contesting candidates in most of the constituencies was high. The maximum number in a constituency being 30 (in a Provincial constituency in Karachi), the size of the ballot paper in such cases became unwieldy.

Suggestions with regard to form.

6. From the markings, on the bal ot papers, examined during the course of hearing appeals regarding count, it was observed that the electors in West Pakistan had sometimes erred in not marking the ballot paper in the space provided for the purpose. The cross mark was instead put on the left hand side of the name of the elector presumably because Urdu is written from right to left. The incidence of this mistake could most probably be avoided by giving the serial number and the name on the right hand side of the ballot paper followed in the next column by the symbol and then leaving the space blank for marking.

Difficulties faced.

7. The Returning Officers submitted the lists of contesting candidates, containing the names in English, to the Election Commission. These names were to be printed on the ballot paper either in Urdu or Bengali script. In some cases difficulty was experienced in transliteration. Doubtful cases were referred to the Returning Officers over the telephone and their clarifications sought. In a few cases the ballot papers had to be reprinted to correct the mistakes in printing which had crept in by following the wrong transliteration. To avoid such mistakes the Returning Officers may well be asked to give the names of the contesting candidates in Bengali/Urdu along with the English versions.

Printing of ballot paper.

8. The ballot papers were printed at Karachi, Dacca and Lahore. As the time available for printing, being the time between the last date fixed for withdrawals and the actual polling day, was very short, it was decided to divide West Pakistan into two sectors for printing purposes. The printing of ballot papers for the Divisions of Karachi, Kalat, Quetta, Hyderabad, Bahawalpur, Khairpur and Multan was done at Karachi while the printing for the rest of the Province was arranged at the Government Printing Press, Lahore. The Dacca Printing Press catered to the needs of printing for the whole of East Pakistan.

Special arrangements for printing.

9. The District Officers were advised to collect the lists of contesting candidates (with the symbols duly indicated against the name of each candidate) from all the Returning Officers within their jurisdictions and to send these lists to the Regional Election Commissioner concerned or to the Election Commission as the case may be through special messengers. Where this was less convenient the Returning Officers were given the option to send the lists through their own special messengers. The messengers who took the lists had to await the printing of the ballot papers so that they could take back the printed ballot papers with them. The process had to be repeated in respect of the printing of ballot papers for the Provincial Assembly elections. These arrangements worked well and the chances of the ballot papers being mislaid, or lost in transit, were eliminated.

Checking of ballot paper.

10. After the ballot papers were received from the Press and before despatch to the Returning Officers they were checked thoroughly to see that serial numbers of the counterfoils had been printed correctly by the Press and that the symbols allotted to the candidates had been correctly indicated against the names of the candidates. This check was necessary because any mistake in the printing of the symbols could lead to complete confusion at the time of the poll. It was also essential to verify the exact number of ballot papers being issued to each Returning Officer and to see that no serial number is repeated which would spoil the count of ballot papers. In order to avoid the possibility of ballot papers of a similar nature being printed and supplied to the electors by interested parties some sort of additional precaution was needed. Each ballot paper was, therefore, sealed with a rubber stamp containing the facsimile of the signatures of Chief Election Commissioner. The checking, the counting and the stamping of ballot papers was done under the supervision of senior officers of the Commission before the ballot papers were despatched after printing.

Despatch of ballot Papers.

11. The special messengers took back the ballot papers to the Districts where the District officers distributed them amongst the Returning Officers within their jurisdictions. While forwarding the ballot papers to the Districts, the acknowledgements which these District Officers and Returning Officers had to sign and return to the Election Commission on receipt of ballot papers were sent through these special messengers. These acknowledgements were invariably received from all the Returning Officers before the day fixed for the poll.

Suggestion.

12. Considering the magnitude of the task which the printing of ballot paper entails, it is felt that the time between the withdrawal date and the date of poll should be sufficient to permit of printing operations being undertaken without rush.

CHAPTER X

SYMBOLS

In a country where the mass of the people is illiterate and where secrecy of voting is an accepted principle, the use of symbols to differentiate between the various candidates is inevitable. With the use of a separate ballot box for each candidate, the ballot paper does not need to be marked. Instead, the voter can insert the common ballot paper in the box on which the symbol of the candidate of his choice is exhibited. If, however, the voter can be trusted to mark the ballot paper, then the symbols are printed on the ballot paper itself. The symbol allotted to a candidate is printed against his name so that the voter may put his mark against the name of the candidate of his choice after identifying the candidate's name by the symbol printed against it. Symbol system.

2. Although elections this time were organised on the basis of an Electoral College the use of symbols could not be avoided. Not all the electors are literate. While it was considered that they could safely be expected to mark the ballot paper, it was thought necessary that symbols be printed on the ballot papers to facilitate voting by those electors who are illiterate.

Symbols to be distinct.

3. In the choice of these symbols, however, care was taken to see that symbols must be familiar to, and easily recognizable by, illiterate voters and readily distinguishable one from the other and that no object having any religious or sentimental associations as for examples, a mosque or the National Flag should find a place in the list of approved symbols.

Allotment of symbols.

4. The present elections were not fought on party basis. Hence there was no question of consulting the political parties in the matter of selection of these symbols for party candidates. There was therefore no question of a candidate indicating his preference for any particular symbol. A simple procedure was, therefore, evolved. The list of contesting candidates was prepared in serial alphabetical order. The list of symbols was also alphabetically arranged bearing a serial number against each symbol. It was provided that the symbols should be allotted in such a way that the serial number of the symbol allotted to a contesting candidate be the same as that of his name on the list of contesting candidates. This system of allotment of symbols was easily acceptable to all.

List of symbols.

5. The following symbols were adopted for use in West Pakistan :—

1. Axe.

CHAPTER XI

MEETINGS

Political parties banned.

The Constitution left to the National Assembly to review the problem of political parties and to take a final decision and in the meantime no political parties were allowed for these elections. Martial Law, which had banned political parties, continued in force till the holding of the first meeting of the National Assembly. It is provided in the Constitution that except as permitted by an Act of the Central Legislature any person who in connection with an election holds out himself or any other person as having the support of a political party or any similar organisation shall make himself liable to punishment. A mandatory direction was, however, made to ensure—

(a) that each candidate at an election has the opportunity, and so far as is practicable, equal opportunity with other candidates, of addressing the persons who are entitled to vote at the election ; and

(b) that the persons entitled to vote at the election have the opportunity of questioning each candidate, face to face.

A unique experiment was, therefore, conducted in the history of elections whereby the candidates and electors were provided with an opportunity of meeting on a common platform so as to enable the electors to choose, conscientiously and with a sense of realisation, the candidate who could represent them in the National and Provincial Assemblies. These meetings enable the electors to question the candidates and the candidates to present their programmes before the electors.

Law relating to meetings and arrangements.

2. The law provides that the Election Commission should arrange these meetings in accordance with such instructions as it may give in this behalf. Considering that the time between the date of withdrawal and the actual poll was very short, it was decided to hold normally one meeting in each constituency. The meetings were arranged by the District Officers and each contesting candidate was given an equal opportunity to address the electors. These meetings were presided over by Judicial Officers in the service of Pakistan or such non-officials as were non-partisans in the elections. The convening of public meetings within the constituency by a contesting candidate himself on the day fixed for such a meeting was forbidden. It was, however, suggested to the District Officers that the meetings for the National and Provincial constituencies could be held on the same day with a brief interval in between so as to make it convenient for the electors. The alphabetical order of the names of candidates was prescribed for addressing the meetings. The suggestions with regard to selection of suitable places for the meetings, seating arrangements connected therewith, provision of lighting arrangements and amplifiers and the duties and powers of the Presiding Officers were explained at some length. The Public Relations Officer and other Officers of the Commission toured a number of Divisional Headquarters to explain the details to the District Officers. These on-the-spot contacts proved useful.

3. Between 12th and 26th April, 900 meetings were held in the contested constituencies. In West Pakistan, 302 meetings were held of which 142 were for the National Assembly candidates and 160 for those who were contesting Provincial Assembly seats. 598 meetings were held in East Pakistan. Out of these, 243 were in National Assembly constituencies and 355 in Provincial Assembly constituencies. Number of meetings.

4. 240 out of the 302 meetings held in West Pakistan were presided over by members of the Judicial Service of Pakistan. In East Pakistan, 529 meetings out of 598 were held under the Chairmanship of Judicial Officers.

5. A few of these meetings were also attended by the Chief Election Commissioner and the Members of the Election Commission as observers. Some officers were also deputed to attend meetings to get an overall picture. Arrangements at the meetings were found to be satisfactory and the meetings started and came to a close according to prescribed schedules. The officers of the Election Commission who attended these meetings as observers always gave such assistance and help to the Chairmen as was asked for. The smooth conduct of a meeting was the responsibility of each chairman who was expected to have a full grasp of the instructions issued by the Election Commission in this behalf. The way in which a meeting was actually conducted largely depended upon the personal calibre, the status and the ingenuity of the chairman. A candidate could explain the aims and objects for which he was seeking an election but he was forbidden to cast any aspersions on any other contesting candidate except to the extent to which they related to the aims and objects of such other candidate's programme. The chairman had the right to disallow a question which in his opinion was calculated to scandalise any of the contesting candidates. There was not a single instance where the conduct of a Chairman was complained against.

6. These meetings were open to the public and the Press also. Members of the public were generally present and Press representatives reported the proceedings. The attendance at these meetings varied from 200 to 600, except in the big towns where they were much better attended. Except for stray absentees the meetings were well-attended by the candidates. In some cases the gatherings were so large that seating arrangements proved inadequate and a section of the public had to stand and watch the proceedings. In cases where a candidate abstained from participating in a meeting, his opponents and their supporters took advantage of such absence in furtherance of their own candidature. Attendance.

7. The meetings in most cases began with a brief introductory speech by the Chairman explaining the purpose of these meetings and advising the audience to abide by the rules. Uniformity was observed in the allotment of time to each candidate. In most of the meetings each candidate was given 10 minutes to explain the aims and objects of his candidature. In the constituencies where the number of candidates was small 15 to 20 minutes were allowed for each address. Generally five minutes were allowed to each candidate for answering the Time allowed.

questions of the electors. In some of the meetings questions by the members of the public were also allowed to be put to the contesting candidates but mostly the chairman took care to disallow them. The time allotted for questions was considered too short by some of the candidates and the electors who sought an extension therein. Keen interest was displayed by the electors in asking relevant questions. The prevalent atmosphere was pleasant and quite often also hilarious.

Publicity of proceedings.

8. The Press gave good coverage to the proceedings of these meetings. Photographs, cartoons, special articles and editorial comments relating to the elector-candidate meetings appeared in all the newspapers. Radio Pakistan also broadcast news about these meetings.

Reactions.

9. The reactions of the candidates to this novel experiment were mixed. Those who were gifted with eloquence welcomed the system while those who were not adepts in the art of public speaking and oratory spoke about its merits with some reservations. The people and the electorate were, however, generally enthusiastic about this new experiment.

10. In West Pakistan, some of the candidates spoke in their regional languages whereas the greatest number of candidates spoke in Urdu. In some remote places like Nushki and Sibi in Quetta Division the chairmen at their own initiative made it compulsory for all the candidates to address the audience in Urdu.

Ingenious techniques adopted.

11. While in most of the meetings relevant questions were asked by the electors and adequately answered by the candidates an ingenious technique was adopted by some of the candidates. They framed a large number of questions in advance with instructions to their supporters among the electors to put these very questions during the course of the meetings. This method was adopted obviously for three reasons—

(a) to impress the electors that the candidate was capable of giving on-the-spot replies.

(b) to gain more time for answering questions which could not be covered by the candidate in his speech; and

(c) to avoid giving opportunity to the opponents to ask such questions as the candidates wanted to avoid.

12. During these meetings candidates tried to give brief life sketches and manifestos in their speeches. Certain points which were frequently mentioned are :—

1. Support for the institution of Basic Democracies.
2. The Islamic way of life. Every candidate either himself referred to the Islamic way of life or was questioned by an elector about his attitude towards the Islamic Social Order.
3. Demand for broad-based elections specially as the existing narrow franchise may lead to corruption.

4. The election should cease to be a monopoly of landlords, industrialists and wealthy people.

5. Old politicians who have been EBDOed indulged in wire-pulling in favour of their candidates.

6. Steps to improve the country's economy and to solve local problems peculiar to the constituency.

7. Kashmir dispute and its solution as one of the most important problems of the country.

8. Amendments in the Constitution.

9. Young blood coming in and fresh entrants in the field of politics to give new leadership to the country.

10. In East Pakistan another common point was the preference given to West Pakistan over East Pakistan in the past.

13. The questions generally asked at the meetings were not of a very high standard. Mostly, they related to local problems, personal qualifications and disqualifications of the candidates and how they proposed to acquit themselves if returned from their constituencies. Instances were not lacking where irrelevant questions were asked. But they were generally disposed of summarily. The elector-candidate meetings were, therefore, undoubtedly a successful experiment. Although the experiment proved a success there was a sizeable percentage of electors who had already made up their minds as to the candidates of their choice. In a few cases, however, the electors were certainly helped by the utterances of the candidates in these meetings to finalise the choice of the candidate in whose favour they would vote.

Nature of questions asked.

14. The questions asked by the electors were not confined wholly to the personal traits, character, qualifications, past political affiliations of the candidates and to local problems. The candidates who represented the industrialist class were generally asked as to the field of welfare activities and amenities they were thinking of providing for the workers employed in their factories. Those candidates who had in the past changed their party affiliations were asked to clarify this lack of faith. Where the nature of questions was suggestive, the candidates were told to explain the social welfare activities they had undertaken for the well-being of the masses. Another common question was about the programme of the candidate as their representatives in the Assemblies. Matters of foreign policy and national economy were also discussed.

15. Certain subtle questions on the form of government, justiciability of fundamental rights, restoration of political parties and the future franchise in the country were also asked. In East Pakistan, while complaining of the existing disparities in the field of development in the two wings, the electors asked of the candidates as to what means they were going to adopt to bring about an equal distribution of the resources of the government for equal development of the two wings.

16. In the beginning there was a visible tendency amongst the Basic Democrats to get together to the exclusion of others but with the increase in the tempo of elections this tendency diminished. Certain candidates who happened to be Basic Democrats did not fail to suggest openly to the electors in these meetings that they should choose suitable candidates from among their own fold. This tendency was more apparent during the contests for Provincial seats.

Reactions and suggestions.

17. The alphabetical order in which the candidates addressed the meetings was not appreciated by some of the candidates as those candidates who spoke first did not get an opportunity again of refuting some of the allegedly false and misleading statements made by their opponents who spoke later. It has been suggested that two meetings could be held in each constituency and the order of speakers reversed at the subsequent meeting.

18. Another suggestion was that the electors should be asked to give their questions in advance to the chairman so that they could determine which of these questions to allow. This might not be feasible as without having heard a contesting candidate it may not be fair to expect an elector to frame questions about the candidate's programme.

19. Though political parties were banned and some of the politicians were disqualified from participating in elections the results of elections were considerably influenced by disguised and covert party influences. Appeals to the electorate that were made openly were generally of the same character as in the manifestos. Covertly, appeals were made to sectarian and 'baradari' sentiments, and social pressures were not absent.

20. On the whole, the elector-candidate meetings were a success and proved to be educative. While on the other hand the candidates were made to apply their minds to the study of what the public expected of them, the electors, and alongwith them the general public, found a new way of assessing the capabilities of the candidates.

Cost.

21. A sum of Rs. 1,60,000 was distributed among the District officers to meet the cost of arranging the meetings. The T. A. and D. A. of the Judicial officers presiding at these meetings were met by their own departments.

CHAPTER XII

THE POLL

The poll is easily the most important stage in an election and the success of the electoral machinery may well be judged by the fairness and efficiency with which the poll is conducted. The Presidential ballot held in 1960 afforded the first opportunity to the Election Commission to conduct a country-wide poll. The experience gained then stood the Commission in good stead and helped evolve suitable procedures.

Dates for the po

2. The proceedings upto the stage of withdrawal being simultaneous polling arrangements for elections to the National Assembly and to the Provincial Assemblies were made separately. The 28th of April was fixed for the National Assembly poll and the 6th of May for the polls for seats of the Provincial Assemblies.

Polling stations.

3. The electoral law expected of each Returning Officer to send to the Election Commission a list of polling stations he proposed to provide in a constituency. These lists were obtained by the Commission from the Returning Officers in advance so as to be able to judge the suitability of their locations and to make such alterations as were considered necessary. The Members of the Election Commission were delegated the power to accord approval to these lists. The proposals received from the Returning Officers were, therefore, thoroughly examined in the Regional Offices where if it was considered that the polling stations were not suitably located, the Returning Officers were asked to make the indicated changes. Several representations were received from interested parties who wanted one or the other polling station to be shifted to suit their convenience. Although there is a certain amount of inherent arbitrariness in the selection of polling stations, it is a matter of great satisfaction to note that the choice was made generally in a judicious and objective manner and wherever there was cause for a genuine complaint the position was corrected. Otherwise, the proposals remained unaltered. In East Pakistan in a few cases the location of polling stations had to be changed in some places as the selected buildings were blown away by the cyclones. Changes had also to be made in certain cases where school buildings selected to serve as polling stations were later on found to have been earmarked as centres for the University examinations. It is certainly advisable to invite objections and suggestions with regard to the location of polling stations but this could not be done as the time available was not sufficient. The lists, duly approved by the Commission, were published in the official gazette fifteen days before the commencement of poll i.e. on the 12th April for National Assembly and on the 19th April for the Provincial Assemblies. The Returning Officers then proceeded to arrange these polling stations.

Polling station premises.

4. In the setting up of polling stations care is taken to see that they are not located in buildings which were owned by any of the candidates or are likely to be under their influence. The use of police station buildings and Levy Posts for the purpose was avoided. Preference was given to school and college buildings, Dak Bungalows, Club buildings, Municipal halls, District Council halls, Union Council offices, public buildings and court premises. Establishment of polling stations at open sites with improvised arrangements was not resorted to as buildings were easily available at almost all tehsil headquarters in West Pakistan and at every thana headquarter in East Pakistan.

Polling areas.

5. As a general principle it was decided to have one polling station at each tehsil headquarter in a constituency in West Pakistan and a polling station at each thana headquarter in a constituency in East Pakistan. Where a tehsil (or thana) was divided between two or more constituencies, separate polling stations were provided in each part. Where distances were prohibitive or certain areas were sparsely populated or where suitable means of communication and transport were lacking, more polling stations at or within the tehsil (or thana) headquarters could be established. Similarly if the tehsil (or thana) was considered too big for one polling station and it was feared that smoothness of poll might be hampered due to the large number of voters more polling stations were allowed to be provided therein.

Number of polling stations.

6. For the National Assembly elections 635 polling stations were established out of which 445 served East Pakistan and 190 served West Pakistan. For the Provincial Assembly elections, 668 polling stations were established in all. Out of these 445 were in the Eastern Wing and 223 catered to the needs of the Western Wing. Altogether 1,303 polling stations were provided throughout the country for elections to National and Provincial Assembly constituencies. For East Pakistan more polling stations were allowed keeping in view the riverine nature of the country and the difficult means of communication and transport. The problem was not overlooked in West Pakistan either. In one constituency comprising the whole of the Kalat Division as many as ten polling stations were provided. On an average there were six polling stations for each National Assembly constituency and three for each Provincial Assembly constituency in East Pakistan whereas for West Pakistan the average works out at 3 and 2 polling stations for National Assembly constituencies and Provincial Assembly constituencies respectively.

The maximum and minimum number of polling stations assigned to constituencies in East and West Pakistan are given in the table below :—

Constituencies	Maximum No. of polling stations in a constituency	Minimum number of polling stations in a constituency
1. Provincial Assembly constituencies in East Pakistan.	7	1
2. Provincial Assembly constituencies in West Pakistan.	4	1
3. National Assembly Constituencies in East Pakistan.	10	3
4. National Assembly constituencies in West Pakistan.	10	1

Publicity about polling areas.

7. As it was necessary that every voter should know in advance the polling station where he was to cast his vote, the Returning Officers published the lists of polling stations, together with the polling areas served by these polling stations, at the offices of the Union Councils, Union Committees and Town Committees falling within a constituency.

Number of electors assigned to a polling station.

8. A list of polling stations provided for each constituency showing the number of electors assigned to each polling station is contained in Appendix X. This would show that the maximum number of electors assigned to a polling station for a National Assembly constituency in East Pakistan was 292 and that for a Provincial Assembly constituency was also 292. The minimum number served by a polling station for a National Assembly constituency was 12 and that for a Provincial Assembly constituency was 12. In West Pakistan similarly the maximum number served by a polling station in case of a National Assembly constituency and a Provincial Assembly constituency respectively was 650 and 491; the minimum being 17 in each of the National and Provincial Assembly constituencies.

Hours of polls.

9. The duration of poll had to be five hours without break. The Returning Officers generally fixed 9·00 A.M. to 2·00 P.M. as the time during which the votes could be cast. In some cases the Returning Officers feared that due to the large number of electors it might not be possible for all of them to cast their votes at a polling station within the time specified. They were allowed to increase the time of poll subject to the condition that no break in the polling hours was allowed. Wherever enhancement in the timings was sought, the Regional Election Commissioners were authorised to grant permission for the polling to continue for longer hours. The Presiding Officers also ensured that those persons who were within the precincts of the polling station at the hour fixed for the close of poll and were waiting to vote were allowed to cast their votes and in no case was the polling stopped till the last person so waiting had voted. Polling commenced at the scheduled hour at all places in East and West Pakistan. In Dacca, however, the commencement of the poll had to be delayed till 12·00 Noon on account of Namaz-e-Janaza of late Mr. A. K. Fazlul Haque. The delay was made good by extending the time of close of poll to 5·00 P.M.

10. The polling was generally heavy after mid-day and in many places, particularly in the urban areas, polling was completed long before the hour fixed for the close of the poll. No case was reported where an elector had to go without casting his vote. In many cases where extension of time had been asked for by the Returning Officer by way of abundant precaution, the Presiding Officers were able to finish polling well before the closing time due to the brisk pace of polling at these polling stations.

Percentage of the poll.

11. The percentage of votes cast varied from constituency to constituency. The maximum and minimum percentages occurred in the following constituencies :—

Sl. No.	Assembly whether National or Provincial	Name of the Constituency	Maximum percentage of polling	Minimum percentage of polling
1	2	3	4	5
1.	National Assembly Constituency, East Pakistan.	NE-1 Rangpur-I ..	99·3%	..
2.	Do.	NE-55 Mymensingh-cum-Sylhet.	..	91·2%
3.	National Assembly Constituency, West Pakistan.	NW-74 Thatta-I ..	99·7%	..

11.	Do.	PW-145 Sanghar-I ..	100%	..
12.	Do.	PW-34 Hazara-V ..	..	44·8%

12. The polling stations where the highest and lowest number of votes were polled were the following :—

S. No.	Name of Polling Station	Total No. of electors assigned to the polling station	Highest No. of votes cast	Lowest No. of votes cast
1	2	3	4	5
EAST PAKISTAN (NATIONAL CONSTITUENCIES)
1.	Lakshmipur Dak Banglow	292	281	..

WEST PAKISTAN (PROVINCIAL CONSTITUENCIES)
1.	Tehsil Building, Gujranwala.	491	475	...
2.	Middle School Building, Awaran	17	..	17

13. Excluding the Constituencies where no elections were contested, out of a total of 77,754 electors 75,660 cast their votes for elections to the National Assembly constituencies, the percentage of poll being 97·3. At the Provincial Assembly elections the total number of votes cast was 77,109 giving an over-all percentage of 97.

14. No case occurred anywhere in the country where adjournment of poll may have been considered necessary as polling went on smoothly at all polling stations in the country and no untoward incidents took place. No adjourned polls.

15. The Constitution prescribes an oath which every member of the Electoral College of Pakistan is required to take. It is an offence under the electoral law to vote at an election without having taken the prescribed oath. In order to ensure that this constitutional provision was complied with the District Officers administered the oath to the electors and recorded the fact of having done so on identity cards issued to them. These identity cards, containing the name and particulars of the electors together with the local councils to which they belong had the photographs of the electors also mounted on them. If the oath was not for some reason administered by the District Officers, the Presiding Officers had instructions to administer the oath at the polling station before the elector was allowed to cast his vote. Copies of the standard text of the oath in Bengali, Urdu, Pashto, Sindhi and English were supplied to the Presiding Officers. The Administration oath and identi Cards.

provision of photographs on the identity cards was in some cases objected to on religious grounds. The District Officers were, therefore, advised not to insist on photographs in all cases. Initially it was intended that an elector who did not possess an identity card be not allowed to vote. It was, however, suggested that such a restriction may lead to the use of unscrupulous means being adopted to keep doubtful or hostile voters from the polling station by securing their identity cards. It was, therefore, announced that it would not be essential for an elector to produce his identity card at the polling station though it would facilitate quick polling. The electors being the elected mimbers of Basic Democracies were persons fairly well known in their respective communities and it was not difficult to establish their identities to the satisfaction of the Presiding Officers especially when the polling agents were also present to assist the election staff. No case of personation was reported from any of the polling stations.

Rehearsals.

16. The Returning Officers held rehearsals at demonstration polling stations in each constituency which proved very useful and gave the Presiding and Polling Officers a complete idea as to how proceedings were to be conducted during and after the poll.

Ballot boxes.

17. Each polling station was provided with a sufficient number of ballot boxes, ballot papers, seals to serve as official mark, envelopes and other stationery required for use at the polling station. The ballot boxes were made of steel and had a self-locking device. One ballot box was utilized at a time. At most of the polling stations two ballot boxes were utilized one after another. The number of ballot boxes used had to be increased at places where the large number of contesting candidates had necessitated a large sized ballot paper.

Ballot papers.

18. Each Presiding Officer was provided with sufficient ballot papers for use at the polling station. The number of ballot papers printed was almost double the number of electors registered on the electors list for each election. The printed ballwt papers were supplied to the Presiding Officers through the Returning Officers in the shape of books of 25 each. The Returning Officers were advised to keep a small number of books with them in respect of each constituency to meet any emergency.

Polling agents.

19. Adequate arrangements were made to accommodate the polling agents of each candidate present at the polling station. The proceedings at the poll were conducted in the presence of these agents and every possible facility was afforded to them to observe that the poll was being conducted in accordance with the provisions of law and with due impartiality.

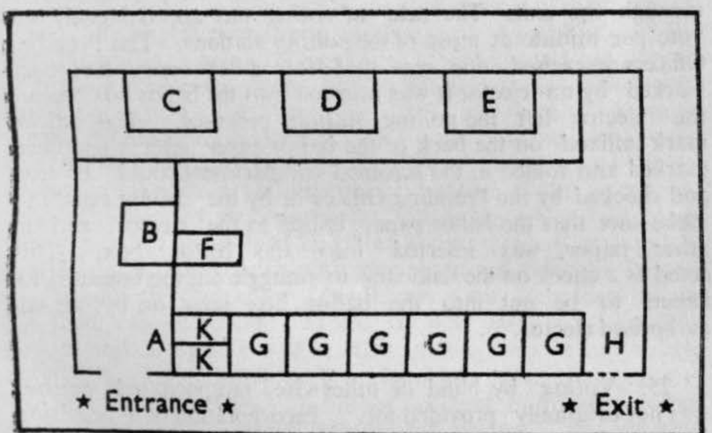

Posters and placards.

20. Placards and posters supplied by the Commission were prominently displayed at each polling station and they helped instruct the electors with regard to the manner of casting the vote and the marking of the ballot paper. Another poster highlighting the electoral offences and the penalties provided therefor was also printed and was exhibited at each polling station.

21. Each polling station had to be manned adequately with the requisite polling staff. It was the responsibility of each Returning Officer to provide for each polling station a Presiding Officer assisted by the required number of polling officers. The number of polling officers generally was three at each polling station. Directions were, however, given that the number of polling officers could be increased as required. One of the senior polling officers at each polling station was authorised by the Returning Officer to act as the Presiding Officer if the Presiding Officer was at any time during the poll not present at the polling station. Although the Returning officer could at any time during the poll for reasons to be recorded in writing suspend any Presiding Officer or polling officer and make such substitute arrangements as he considered necessary, yet no such occasion arose anywhere. Staff at the polling station.

22. The Commission issued detailed instructions for the guidance of the Presiding Officers which helped them in understanding their functions and duties. These instructions are contained at Appendix XI. Instructions for the guidance of Presiding Officers.

23. Polling stations in all the constituencies were established with slight variations to suit local conditions and environments as mentioned in the rough lay out plan given below : Lay out of the polling stations.

A. Entrance.

B. Presiding Officer's table.

C,D,E. Compartments for marking the ballot paper.

F. Table with a ballot box on it.

G. Seating accommodation for the candidates and polling agents.

K. Tables of the Polling Officers.

H. Exit.

24. As soon as an elector approached one of the polling officers, his particulars were checked with the electors' list and the same announced for the information of the polling agents. The polling officer then examined the identity card The actual poll.

and also checked if the oath had been delivered. The Presiding Officer then checked the identity card again to satisfy himself that the oath had been taken, and also checked the particulars from the electors' list. If he was satisfied about the indentity of the elector he issued a ballot paper to him after affixing the official mark on its back. He invariably took the signature or thumb impression of the voter on the counterfoil. The Presiding Officer also ticked off the various entries on the counterfoil and entered the serial number of the elector on the counterfoil. Before delivering the ballot paper to the voter he also signed on the back of the ballot paper at the place where the seal was affixed. The counterfoil of each ballot paper was also stamped with the official mark and initialled by the Presiding Officer. After taking a ballot paper from the Presiding Officer the elector went to a screened off compartment where he marked the ballot paper with a cross against the name of the candidate in whose favour he wanted to vote. The elector could only use the pencil which was provided at the polling station for marking the ballot paper and no other marking device. This was provided for to avoid the possibilities of a ballot paper being identified as having been marked by a particular elector thus helping to preserve the secrecy of the ballot. The voter then folded the ballot paper, came out and inserted it in the ballot box placed on a table in front of the Presiding Officer after which he left the polling station through the exit. The rate of voting was approximately one vote per minute at most of the polling stations. The Presiding Officers exercised due care that after a ballot paper had been marked by an elector it was inserted into the ballot box before the elector left the polling station premises. The official mark affixed on the back of the ballot paper after it had been marked and folded in the screened compartment could be seen and checked by the Presiding Officer or by the polling agents to make sure that the ballot paper issued to the elector, and no other paper, was inserted into the ballot box. This acted as a check on the tendency to smuggle out the issued ballot papers to be put into the ballot box later on by an unauthorised elector.

Voting by Blind or otherwise in-Capacitated person.

25. Voting by blind or otherwise incapacitated persons was not originally provided for. Incorporation of a provision in the rules to this effect was made, allowing such a person to present himself at the polling station accompanied by a companion who could mark the ballot paper in accordance with his wishes but taking care not to violate the secrecy of ballot. In the alternative, the Presiding Officer could mark the ballot paper if so required by such an elector. The person accompanying the blind or otherwise incapacitated person was not himself to be an elector, a candidate or the agent of a candidate.

Procedure on the close of the poll :

26. After the poll was over the Presiding Officer had to seal the last of ballot boxes used at the polling station. After this had been done the Presiding Officer opened the used ballot boxes in accordance with instructions and in the presence of the polling agents present and sorted out the ambiguously marked ballot papers from those which had been clearly cast in favour of the various candidates. The votes cast clearly in favour of each candidate were counted separately and put in separate packets. The ambiguously marked ballot papers were also all counted and put in a separate packet. All the packets were sealed in a principal packet for despatch to the Returning Officer. The counterfoils of the used ballot papers, marked copies of the electors' list, unused ballot papers and the ballot paper account prepared by the Presiding Officer were all sealed separately and sent to the Returning Officer with the principal packet. The ballot paper account showed :—

(a) the number of ballot papers entrusted to the Presiding Officer ;

(b) the number of ballot papers taken out of the ballot boxes and counted ;

(c) the number of unissued ballot papers, spoilt ballot papers; and

(d) the particulars of the electors whose identity had been challenged.

Certified copies of this statement could be obtained by the candidates or their election agents, on request from the Presiding Officer.

Maintenance of Law and Order.

[illegible]. Polling at elections to the National Assembly and the two Provincial Assemblies went off smoothly and no breach of peace was reported from any polling station. Nor were any other irregularities reported from anywhere. Arrangements for maintaining law and order were planned with care. Senior Police Officers and the District Officers made the necessary arrangements and themselves moved about in the vicinity of the polling stations on the polling day which had a very salutary effect and helped in maintaining peace and tranquillity throughout. In order to maintain peace and order at the time of polling, the contesting candidates were forbidden to set up their camps within a radius of 400 yards of the polling station and canvassing within this radius was also strictly forbidden. This legal formality is reported to have been observed strictly everywhere. A minor incident of firing occurred in Sukkur district when the polling was on. It occurred outside the prescribed radius of 400 yards from the polling station and did not affect the poll. The situation was promptly handled by the district authorities.

Difficulties encountered.

28. At the time of the preliminary arrangements in connection with the poll it was apprehended that the available time may be too short to ensure receipt of election material in the various remote places in Kalat Division in West Pakistan well ahead of the poll. Top priority was, therefore, given in the matter of despatch of instructions and material to this Division. Supplies were arranged through special messengers by the land route as well as by the Sea route via Pasni. Double arrangements were necessary to ensure that material did reach the distant places in time. Success of getting ballot papers, ballot paper account and other documents from the various polling stations in time for the final count depended to a considerable extent on the thoughtful way and planned manner in which these operations were carried out by the Divisional Commissioner, who happened to be the Returning Officer as well, and who organised the arrangements very well so that there was no hitch in the receipt of election material at the polling stations and the receipt of the election returns etc., by him from the Presiding Officers. The Sandvip and Kutabdia Islands of Chittagong district and Ramgati and Hatiya Islands of Noakhali district proved even more troublesome and delay in the arrival of polling parties with election documents from these islands to the mainland caused considerable anxiety on the occasion. The Regional Election Commissioner had to maintain close contact with the Commissioner of the Division and the Deputy Commissioners of the two districts so as to be able to report uptodate position to the Election Commission. The possibilities of engaging helicopters for timely supply of election material and for rushing back the election documents to the headquarters of the Returning Officers were fully explored. The Naval unit stationed at Chittagong were also kept alert to render such help as may be needed. In spite of difficulties neither the poll nor the count had to be adjourned or abandoned at any of these places. All the same future elections should be so timed as to avoid the difficult seasons in the various regions.

Conclusion.

29. Considering that arrangements for the poll had to be made at short notice it is matter for gratification that the fullest cooperation rendered by all concerned made it possible to plan and execute the programme without a breakdown anywhere.

CHAPTER XIII

COUNTING AND DECLARATION OF RESULTS

Count by Returning Officer.

The used ballot papers along with the statement showing—

(i) the number of ballot papers taken out of the ballot box or boxes;

(ii) the number of ballot papers unambiguously marked in favour of each candidate ; and

(iii) the number of ballot papers which were not marked or were marked in such a way as not to indicate clearly in whose favour they had been marked ;

were received by the Returning Officer from all the Presiding Officers of the constituency. For the transportation of these packets and documents suitable arrangements were made in advance by the Returning Officers.

2. The last date before which counting was to be done by the Returning Officers in case of National Assembly constituencies was originally fixed as 1st May, 1962 whereas the date before which counting had to be completed in respect of Provincial Assembly constituencies was notified in the election programme as 9th May, 1962. Representations were subsequently received that in view of the prohibitive distances involved and the lack of suitable means of communications and transport and the peculiar geographical conditions prevailing in some of the districts it may not be possible to finalise the count before the dates mentioned in the election programme for all areas. Kalat Division in West Pakistan and Chittagong Division in East Pakistan were the two particular administrative units for which a shift in the last dates for the declaration of results was urged. Considering that fears were genuinely expressed by the Returning Officers that it may not be possible for them to get the ballot papers and other documents from the Presiding Officers of the various polling stations in their constituencies in time, the last date for the declaration of results in respect of National Assembly constituencies was shifted to 3rd May, 1962 and in respect of Provincial Assembly constituencies to 11th May, 1962.

Public notice of count.

3. Each Returning Officer fixed by public notice date convenient to him for the official count within five days after the polling day. The Commission, however, suggested to the Retunring Officers that the days for the count should be fixed for as early a day as feasible considering the relevant factors obtaining in each constituency and that there should be no unnecessary delay in this regard. The Returning Officers acted accordingly.

The count.

4. On the day so notified by the Returning Officers the candidates and their election agents were present to watch the final proceedings relating to the count. Naturally in those constituencies where the count by the Presiding Officers had shown wide disparities in the number of votes polled by the various candidates, attendance of the candidates and their election agents was thin, while in constituencies where there were close contests attendance was full. In constituencies where there were more polling stations than one, care was taken by the Returning Officers to count the ballot papers of the polling stations one after another.

Marking on ballot papers.

5. A ballot paper could be declared void by the Returning Officer if it—

(a) bore any mark by which the elector could be identified; or

(b) bore no mark; or

(c) bore any mark from which it was not clear for whom the elector had voted.

6. In the rules it was provided that the mark should be put in the appropriate place provided for the purpose on the ballot paper. This rule read with (c) above with regard to the grounds on which a ballot paper could be declared void needed a further clarification to cover cases where the intention of the electors was clear but the mark was not put in the space provided for it. Some of the Returning Officers sought the Commission's advice even while the count was on. The advice given to them was to use their discretion in deciding such cases but that the general practice was that such a mark should be treated as valid if the intention of the elector as to in whose favour he wanted to vote was clear. It was found in appeal cases that wherever a particular ballot paper was rejected and declared void by the Returning Officer, sufficient reasons for such rejection were recorded by the Returning officer on the ballot paper and if any candidate, or election agent, objected to such rejection the words " rejection objected to " along with a brief recital of the objection were also stated. The count proceeded continuously without break in all the constituencies.

Rejected ballot papers.

7. The Returning Officer prepared a statement showing the number of ballot papers rejected and a copy thereof was given to the candidate or his agent if so requested.

Quality of marking on the ballot papers.

8. The marking of the ballot paper was generally satisfactory and not many disputes arising on this account were referred to the Commission in appeal. The quality of marking the ballot paper in the Provincial Assembly elections improved considerably as the electors had gained sufficient experience in marking the ballot paper at the National Assembly elections. The final results announced by the Returning Officers after the official counts were substantially the same as those announced on the polling day by the Presiding Officers.

Equality of votes.

9. The law provides that where there is equality of votes between two or more candidates and the addition of one vote for one such candidate would entitle him to be declared elected the Returning Officer should draw a lot in respect of such candidates and the candidate on whom the lot fell is to be taken as having received the highest number of votes. No such case was reported in West Pakistan whereas there was one such case in East Pakistan.

10. The Returning Officers, after completion of the count, declared by public notice the contesting candidate who had obtained the highest number of votes to be elected to the seat from the constituency to which the election related. The notice also contained the name of and the total number of votes received by each contesting candidate. Each Returning Officer sent a return of election to the Commission as also to his Regional Election Commissioner. The Commission published the results of elections to the National Assembly in the Gazette of Pakistan, Extraordinary, dated the 9th May, 1962, and those of the Provincial Assemblies on the 12th May, 1962. Declaration of results.

11. A chart showing the total number of votes, total number of votes cast in each constituency, votes polled by the successful candidates and the percentages is given in Appendix XII. Chart.

CHAPTER XIV

DEPOSITS AND FORFEITURES

Deposits. Every nomination paper is accompanied by a sum of one thousand rupees if the nomination is for a seat in the National Assembly and by a sum of Rs. 500 in the case of a seat in the Provincial Assembly. The deposit is made by the candidate himself or by any person on his behalf at the time the nomination papers are filed with the Returning Officer. Those who want to avoid payment in cash are at liberty to deposit the requisite amount at any branch of the National Bank of Pakistan or at a Government Treasury or Sub-treasury. All deposits are made under a Head of Account widely publicised for the information of intending candidates. It is usual for a candidate to be nominated in the same constituency by more than one nomination paper. He is, however, not required to make more than one deposit. Even so, in a few cases candidates, either through ignorance or by way of abundant caution, made separate deposits in respect of each nomination paper filed by them.

Deposit accounts. 2. Each Returning Officer opened a register in which he maintained full accounts of the deposits received. They also issued printed and signed receipts for the cash deposits accompanying the nomination papers for which receipt books were provided. A total sum of Rs. 19,65,500 was received as deposits by candidates. Out of this aggregate amount, a sum of Rs. 7,26,000 was in respect of National Assembly constituencies and a sum of Rs. 12,39,500 in respect of Provincial Assembly constituencies.

Refund of deposits. 3. After the elections the deposits made under law are refundable on application to the persons whose nomination papers were rejected and to those who had withdrawn their candidatures. The legal representative of a candidate whose death occurs before the close of the poll is also entitled to refund. A candidate who receives more than 1/8th of the total number of votes cast is also eligible to have the deposit refunded. Deposits made in respect of all candidates other than those mentioned above were liable to be forfeited.

4. The table below explains the position of deposits as well s of forfeitures.

Total ..	5,086	3,199	19,65,500	38,000	5,500	7,16,500	7,60,000

5. The total amounts of forfeitures in East and West Pakistan were Rs. 3,60,000 and Rs. 4,00,000 respectively. A proposal was received from the West Pakistan Government to the effect that the amounts forfeited be placed at the disposal of the Provincial Governments to compensate them for the expenditure incurred by them on the preparation for elections and other ancillary arrangements. Although funds were separately provided for the major items of printing of Electors' lists, stationery to be provided at the polling stations and the conduct of elector-candidate meetings, the Commission agreed to the forfeitures being placed at the disposal of the Provincial Governments. A final decision, however, has not yet been taken.

6. Even a successful candidate loses his security deposit if he is not able to receive 1/8th of the total number of votes polled at an election although in actual fact no such case arose. This provision exercises some sort of check on the number of candidates seeking elections.

Too many forfeitures.

7. The forfeitures were comparatively heavy as the absence of party tickets resulted in a large number of candidates contesting the elections basing their hopes of securing votes on the fact that the electorate was small. A comparatively large percentage of the candidates were from among elected Basic Democrats themselves. The position is likely to be more normal if and when there are political parties in the field.

CHAPTER XV

ELECTIONS TO THE SEATS EXCLUSIVELY RESERVED FOR WOMEN

Determination of Zones.

The Chief Election Commissioner is empowered under the Constitution to divide each province into five zones for the purpose of elections to the seats exclusively reserved for women in the Provincial Assembly. Similarly, there has to be the division of each Province into three zones for the purpose of elections to the seats exclusively reserved for women in the National Assembly. The Chief Election Commissioner, accordingly, created these zones. The final delimitation of these zones was notified in the Gazette of Pakistan, Extraordinary, dated the 24th March, 1962. Contiguous Divisions were grouped together to form these zones in West Pakistan whereas in East Pakistan the Districts were similarly grouped into the requisite number of zones. The details of the zones into which the two Provinces have been divided are contained in Appendix XIII.

2. The Constitution provides that the persons elected as members of a Provincial Assembly shall elect five candidates to the seats reserved exclusively for women in the Provincial Assembly; and after that all the persons elected as members of the Provincial Assembly should similarly elect three candidates to seats exclusively reserved for women in the National Assembly.

3. Article 45 of the National and Provincial Assemblies (First Elections) Order, 1962 read with Article 169 of the Constitution empowers the Commission to hold and conduct the election to fill a reserved seat in such manner as it deems fit. In pursuance of these provisions directions were issued for holding elections to the seats exclusively reserved for women in the three Assemblies vide Notification No. F.2(42)/62-ELS., dated the 1st May, 1962, published in the Gazette of Pakistan, Extraordinary of 2nd May, 1962. (Appendix XIV).

4. The following programme was notified for these elections vide Notification No. F.2(1)/62-ELS., dated 12-5-1962 :—

Provincial Assemblies :

(1) Nomination papers to be filed with the Returning Officers at Dacca/Lahore ..	17-5-1962
(2) Scrutiny of nominations	18-5-1962
(3) Last date for withdrawals	24-5-1962 (before 2.00 P.M.)
(4) Polling Day	27-5-1962

National Assembly :

(1) Nomination papers to be filed with the Returning Officers at Dacca/Lahore ..	17-5-1962
(2) Scrutiny of Nominations	18-5-1962
(3) Last date for withdrawals	24-5-1962 (before 2.00 P.M.)
(4) Polling day	29-5-1962

5. The Regional Election Commissioners of East and West Pakistan were appointed Returning Officers for all the women's constituencies each for seats from within his jurisdiction. They were assisted in their work by polling officers appointed by them. Returning Officers.

6. Nomination papers for both the National and the Provincial Assembly reserved seats were filed on the 17th of May, 1962. In all, 17 candidates filed nomination papers in respect of the Provincial Assembly constituencies and 9 candidates in respect of National Assembly constituencies, in East Pakistan. In West Pakistan nomination papers were filed by 33 candidates for the Provincial Assembly seats and 14 candidates were nominated for the National Assembly seats. Nominations.

7. Any member, of the Electoral College of Pakistan as constituted under clause (2) of Article 229 of the Constitution, if from within the zone, could nominate, and any other such person could second the nomination of, any woman for election to the seat reserved for that zone in the National Assembly or the Provincial Assembly.

8. On the eve of nomination day the law relating to the election of candidates for seats exclusively reserved for women was amended by a Presidential Order. The law, as it had stood, provided that all the members-elect of the Provincial Assembly would vote for five candidates from the five zones in case of Provincial Assembly and for three candidates from the three zones in case of the National Assembly. The amendment issued on the 17th May, 1962, provided that members-elect from a particular zone would vote for a candidate from that zone only.

9. Scrutiny was held on the appointed day viz., the 18th May, 1962. In most cases the candidates were personally present with their proposers and seconders. The scrutiny of nomination papers of each zone was taken up separately. Whereas in East Pakistan no objection was taken to the acceptance of the candidature of any of the women candidates, in West Pakistan the eligibility of one of the candidates to the National Assembly reserved seat was unsuccessfully challenged by the rival candidates. Scrutiny.

10. Five nomination papers of candidates for election to the Provincial Assembly and one nomination paper of a candidate for the National Assembly were rejected in East Pakistan for non-compliance of the provisions of paragraphs 5(2) and 5(3) of the Directions but the candidates whose papers were rejected, were found validly nominated through other nomination papers. No nomination paper was rejected in West Pakistan. All the candidatures were thus accepted and the lists of valid nominations were posted at the respective offices of the Returning Officers (Regional Election Commissioners).

11. There were altogether ten withdrawals, two in East Pakistan and eight in West Pakistan before the 24th of May, 1962. The two withdrawals in East Pakistan related to the National Assembly constituencies. In West Pakistan, however, 3 related to National Assembly constituencies and 5 to the Provincial Assembly constituencies. Withdrawals.

Uncontested elections.

12. Throughout Pakistan, Provincial constituency No. PE-154 of East Pakistan was the only one from which a candidate was returned unopposed.

Electors' list.

13. The persons elected as members of the Provincial Assemblies from the general seats formed the Electoral College for the seats reserved exclusively for women in the Provincial Assembly. The Electoral College for the seats exclusively reserved for women in the National Assembly also consisted of the above mentioned Electoral College with the addition of five women members elected to the reserved seats in the Provincial Assembly. The lists of electors arranged zone-wise for the reserved seats of the National Assembly and the Provincial Assemblies compiled from the Gazette Notifications issued by the Election Commission were published by the Regional Election Commissioners and posted in their respective offices. In pursuance of the Reserved Seats (First Elections) Order, 1962 (President's Order No. 16 of 1962) the Chief Election Commissioner allocated (vide notification No. F. 2(42)/62-ELS., dated 22nd May, 1962) the women returned to the reserved seats in the Provincial Assembly to vote for the National Assembly reserved seats as shown below :—

Election meetings

14. The candidate-elector meetings were arranged by the Regional Election Commissioners in each Wing. The Regional Election Commissioners invited the persons elected to the Provincial Assemblies to these meetings after having explained the aims and objects of the meetings in a circular letter addressed to them. These meetings were very well attended as besides the members of the Provincial Assemblies some foreign press representatives and distinguished persons from public life were also present. The members, Election Commission also attended these meetings in their respective Provinces. The meetings at Lahore were convened in the Assembly Chambers on the 26th May, 1962, under the chairmanship of a Senior Civil Judge, Lahore while the meetings held in the Assembly Building at Dacca on 27th May, 1962, were presided over by a senior District and Sessions Judge. Two meetings were held in each place in respect of elections to the reserved seats, for the Provincial Assemblies and the National Assembly, with a brief interval in between. Barring three candidates all turned up to address the meetings in West Pakistan. In Dacca, however, there were no absentees except the one elected unopposed, the other being a candidate who proceeded on Pilgrimage to Mecca. Most of the candidates recounted their past social activities and individual attainments in the field of education, etc. Some of them gave an account of their political activities too. Most of the candidates assured the audience that they would strain every nerve to remove the economic disparity between the two wings of the country and help in the amelioration of the conditions of the masses. Others pleaded for freedom of the press and of expression and for eradication of poverty and unemployment. Some of the questions which were really suggestive and intelligent helped the women candidates to put forth their claims in a better way and with greater force.

15. The meetings were held in a peaceful atmosphere although one of the candidates who had withdrawn as a protest against the last minute change in the Election procedure with regard to zonal voting tried from the balcony to interrupt the proceedings. She sought to address the members-elect of the Assembly but having withdrawn her candidature, she was not allowed to address the audience.

Printing of ballot papers.

16. The printing of ballot papers was arranged by the Regional Election Commissioners immediately after the last date fixed for the withdrawals. The ballot papers used were slightly different from those used at elections for the general seats. The provision of symbols on the ballot papers was not necessary. The names of the candidates were printed in English and Bengali in East Pakistan and in English and Urdu in West Pakistan. The names were as before arranged in alphabetical order. Since voting in all the zones for the Provincial Assembly was scheduled to take place at the same time on the same day, and likewise for all the zones of the National Assembly, the ballot papers for each zone were printed on papers of different colours. Ballot boxes for each zone were marked with the corresponding colour and also with the constituency number for easy reference by the electors. The following colours were used for the zones for the Provincial Assemblies and for the National Assembly :—

Constituency Numbers in East Pakistan	Constituency Numbers in West Pakistan	Colour
NE-76	NW-76	Pink	NATIONAL
NE-77	NW-77	Blue
NE-78	NW-78	Yellow
PE-151	PW-151	Pink	PROVINCIAL
PE-152	PW-152	Blue
PE-153	PW-153	Yellow
PE-154	PW-154	Cream
PE-155	PW-155	White.

Polling stations

17. The poll for the seats exclusively reserved for women in the Province of East Pakistan were held at the Assembly Building, Dacca which was selected to serve as a polling station. In West Pakistan, Assembly Chambers at Lahore was selected for the purpose.

Poll

18. The poll for the Provincial Assembly reserved seats started in both the Provincial Capitals punctually at 9·00 A.M. on 27th of May, 1962 and continued till 1·00 P.M. without any break. The polling started after the ballot boxes for each zone were sealed by the Returning Officer after he had shown them to be empty. The Polling Officers checked and scored out the names of voters in the voters' list, after he had called out the name of the voter and made necessary entries on the counterfoil of the ballot paper and obtained the signature of the elector thereon. The elector then proceeded to the screened off compartment, marked his ballot paper with the pencil provided for the purpose, folded it, came out and cast the ballot paper in the ballot box for the zone to which he belonged. Ballot boxes for all the zones, each identified with the distinct colour and the name and number of the constituency, were placed in a row on a table within the view of the Returning Officer as well as of the candidates and the voters. Polling for the reserved seats in the National Assembly was held on similar lines on the 29th of May, 1962 in the same buildings.

Count and declaration of results.

19. After the close of the poll the Returning Officer opened the ballot boxes of each zone in turn in the presence of the candidates and of such of the voters as were present. After the ballot papers had been counted the results of the count were drawn up in zonal statements. The candidate having secured the highest number of votes from amongst the candidates of her zone was declared elected from that zone. The results of elections to the reserved seats were communicated immediately to the Commission enabling their publication in the Gazette of Pakistan, Extraordinary of 28th May, 1962 and 29th May, 1962 respectively in respect of reserved seats for women in the Provincial Assemblies and the National Assembly. A chart showing the total number of votes in each zone, votes obtained by each candidate, and the percentage of votes cast in each zone is given in Appendix. XV.

20. The appendix will show that 21 candidates forfeited their deposits in respect of the reserved seats in West Pakistan and 8 in East Pakistan. Out of forfeitures in East Pakistan one related to the seats exclusively reserved for women in the National Assembly and 7 in the Provincial Assembly. The number of forfeitures pertaining to National Assembly reserved seats in West Pakistan was 5 and to the Provincial Assembly seats was 16.

21. All the candidates, including those who had withdrawn their candidatures, were expected to file their returns of election expenses. The allowable expenses were limited to Rs, 2,000 in each case in addition to the deposit made at the time of filing nomination papers. This return was to be filed within a week of the poll in the form of an affidavit before the Regional Election Commissioner affirming that the expenditure incurred did not exceed the prescribed limit. The women candidates were in some cases late in filing the required affidavits but the Commission took a lenient view and directed the Regional Election Commissioners to obtain the necessary affidavits even after the prescribed time.

CHAPTER XVI

RETURN OF ELECTION EXPENSES

Return of Election Expenses.

The election agent of every contesting candidate and of every candidate who retired from the contest is required to file with the Returning Officer a true return containing a statement of all payments together with all the bills and receipts. This return is required to be submitted within 15 days next following the day on which the result of elections is declared by a Returning Officer as a result of contested as well as uncontested elections. Where the candidate does not appoint an election agent it is incumbent on him to fulfil these legal obligations himself.

Contents of Returns.

2. A return of election expenses gives an indication of the amount of personal expenses incurred by the candidate. It consists of a statement of all moneys received by the election agent for the purpose of election expenses supported, if the candidate was acting as his own election agent, by an affidavit sworn by himself, and if he appointed an election agent, by an affidavit sworn by the candidate and the election agent severally. All payments made are to be vouched for by bills and receipts except where a payment was of less than twentyfive rupees.

The limit of expenses.

3. A candidate can incur as personal expenses a sum not exceeding two hundred rupees. Any amount spent by him in excess of this amount has to be spent through the election agent and accounted for in the return of election expenses. Besides the " personal expenses " an aggregate amount not exceeding two thousand rupees in the case of an election to the National Assembly, and rupees one thousand in the case of an election to a Provincial Assembly, could be incurred by the election agent or by the candidate acting as his own election agent. The amounts specified above do not include the security deposit.

Returns open to inspection.

4. The returns submitted to the Returning Officer along with the affidavits and other documents are kept open for public inspection at the office of the Returning Officer. The public inspection is allowed for a period of one year from the date following the day these documents are received by the Returning Officer and a fee of Re. 1 per inspection is payable. Copies of these documents can also be obtained by any person on payment of a fee of Re. 1 for 200 words and annas-/8/- for every one hundred additional words or any fraction thereof.

Candidates/Election Agents reminded about submission of returns.

5. The candidate and his election agent were reminded through the press about the fulfilment of this important obligation on their part and were advised to file the returns within the prescribed time. They were told that contravention of any of the provisions relating to the submission of returns makes one guilty of an illegal practice for which punishment of fine not exceeding five hundred rupees is prescribed under clause (2) of article 73 of the Presidential Order No. 4 of 1962. Besides the imposition of fine, a conviction also entails disqualification from being, or being elected as, a member of an Assembly for such period not exceeding 4 years as may be imposed by the Commission. The disqualification so imposed also renders the person disqualified for holding an appointment as an election agent. Prosecutions under clause (3) of article 73 for "illegal practice" are to commence within a period of six months from the date of commission of such offences. The Returning Officers, therefore, launched the proceedings against defaulters as soon as contravention of the provisions relating to these returns came to their notice.

Clarifications.

6. A number of clarifications were furnished by the Commission to the Returning Officers in regard to the launching of proceedings in respect of submission of returns. The points on which clarifications were issued are summed up below :—

(a) Where, in the returns filed in time, all material information with regard to the expenses was given those returns were to be accepted even though not in the prescribed form. The Returning Officers were further advised to get these transcribed on the prescribed form by the election agents or the candidates acting as their own election agents. Proceedings were not to be launched in such cases.

(b) In cases where, returns were filed in time, but the affidavits, receipts, vouchers, bills, etc. did not accompany the returns or were submitted in a defective form, the returns were to be deemed as having been filed in time and the formalities with regard to their proper filing got completed expeditiously.

(c) Where returns were filed on the forenoon of the day following the 15th day next following the date of declaration of results by the Returning Officer the returns were to be accepted as filed in time.

(d) In cases where the last date prescribed for the submission of returns happened to be a gazetted holiday and the returns were filed in person, or received by post in the forenoon of the working day next following the gazetted holidays the returns were to be considered as having been received within due date.

(e) There was some confusion in the minds of the Returning Officers whether proceedings for contravention of the provisions relating to submission of returns were to be filed against the election agents or the candidates or both. The Returning Officers were reminded that action for contravention of any of the provisions relating to submission of returns lies against the election agent if one was appointed and in cases where the candidates were acting as their own election agents they themselves were liable for action for contravention of any of these provisions. Proceedings launched contrary to these directions were withdrawn.

(f) The nomination paper contains a column wherein the name of the election agent is mentioned. The nomination paper is not required to be signed by the candidate. A question arose whether appointment of an election agent could be deemed to have been made on the basis of mention of the name of a person as the election agent by the proposer or seconder in the nomination form. In cases where notice of appointment of election agent under clause (3) of article 20 of Presidential Order No. 4 of 1962 had been served by the candidate on the Returning Officer, it was held that the election agent was liable for delayed submission/non-submission of election expenses returns or for exceeding the election expenses and otherwise the candidate should be held responsible for contravention of the provisions of law and be proceeded against as such.

Probe into Return by Returning Officers not allowed.

7. In a few cases doubts were expressed whether the Returning Officers had to go to the extent of satisfying themselves that the returns were correct and true. The Returning Officers were informed that a probe by them was not ordinarily contemplated under the provisions of the existing law and that remedies were open to the persons who believed the statements made by the election agents or the candidates to be false to file election petitions before the Commission under article 11 of the Settlement of Disputes (First Elections) Order, 1962.

8. The Tribal Areas had their peculiar problems with regard to the action for contravention of the provisions relating to the submission of returns. The Returning Officers generally pleaded for the condonation of delays due to the general backwardness of the area, prevailing ignorance about the electoral law (election under an electoral law having been held in these areas for the first time). It was also argued that it would not be politically advisable to sue the Tribal Maliks in the courts of law as their tribal status would thereby be adversely affected and it might create problems for the administration. Considering that elections in the Tribal Areas were a first experience, the Commission took a lenient view and decided not to take action against the defaulters. This decision was taken also because of the fact that the expenses incurred in most cases were almost nil or negligible.

Table and Statistics.

9. A table showing the number of complaints launched is at Appendix XVI. Out of 2492 contesting candidates including those who retired from contest, 581 were prosecuted for contravention of the provisions of articles 50 to 54 of President's Order 4 of 1962. There being an aggregate of 2492 contesting candidates 122 contraventions related to the National Assembly Constituencies and 459 to the Provincial AssembliesConstituencies of East and West Pakistan. Out of these, 380 were prosecuted for delayed submission of returns, 201 for non-submission of returns (inclusive of one incomplete return) and nil for having exceeded the allowed limit of expenses under articles 51 and 53 of P.O. 4 of 1962. A division of proceedings launched province-wise in respect of both National and Provincial Assembly Constituencies shows the number at 321 in respect of East Pakistan and 260 in respect of West Pakistan. Out of the aggregate of complaints numbering 581 action was taken against 115 election agent and against 466 candidates acting as their own election agents.

CHAPTER XVII

SETTLEMENT OF ELECTION DISPUTES

Under the Settlement of Disputes Order the disputes in so far as they related to the counting of votes are to be finally determined by the Commission and other disputes are referred to Tribunals set up for the purpose. The law provides distinctly for —

(i) appeals for the hearing of cases arising out of the rejection of nomination papers as also as a result of counting of votes at an election ; and

(ii) election petitions on the grounds of corrupt or illegal practices as defined and detailed in Chapters V & VI of P. O. 4 of 1962.

2. The period of 7 days within which appeals against the rejection of nomination papers could be preferred had already expired before the necessary law came into force. But under P. O. No. 10 of 1962, review petitions had already been dealt with against rejection of nominations by Returning Officers.

Court Jurisdiction barred.

3. No election can be called into question except by an election petition or by way of appeal. No question which can be raised in appeal could be raised by an election petition nor could any question which can be raised in an election petition be raised before any court or authority whatsoever.

4. An appeal could be filed by an aggrieved person within seven days of the date of declaration of results by the Returning Officer under article 39 of P. O. 4 of 1962, if it related to any proceedings under article 37 of the said Order. The memorandum of appeal should give the date of the count, the facts and reasons on which the result was challenged and the relief sought. This memorandum of appeal should be accompanied by a certificate to the effect that a copy of the memorandum has been delivered to each of the candidates concerned. Before the appeal is presented to the Secretary, Election Commission or to the Regional Election Commissioner of the area in which the constituency concerned lies, proof is to be furnished that a deposit of rupees two hundred has been made in respect of each appeal. The appeals can be dismissed by the Commission without giving a hearing or the Commission may proceed to determine the result of the election on the count of valid votes as corrected and make such consequential orders as may be indicated.

Arrangements for speedy disposal of appeals.

5. For the expeditious hearing and disposal of appeals the Commission decided that all appeals for East Pakistan be filed with the Regional Election Commissioner, Dacca and that appeals relating to the Northern Divisions of D. I. Khan, Peshawar, Rawalpindi, Sargodha, Lahore and Multan be filed with the Regional Election Commissioner, West Pakistan, Lahore while appeals from the remaining Divisions of West Pakistan be filed with the Commission Secretariat at Karachi. In order to accelerate the pace of disposal of appeals it was decided that the Member Election Commission, East Pakistan should hear and dispose of appeals from East Pakistan, the Member Election Commission, West Pakistan should deal with appeals from the Northern Divisions mentioned above and the Chief Election Commissioner should hear and dispose of appeals from the remaining six Divisions of West Pakistan. The Commission delegated its power to the Members and to the Chief Election Commissioner to hear and decide appeals pertaining to the zones fixed for the purpose.

Statistics.

6. Altogether, 26 appeals were filed with the Commission against the results of counts declared by the Returning Officers under article 39 of P. O. 4 of 1962. Out of these, seven were filed with the Regional Election Commissioner, Dacca and were heard by the Member, East Pakistan. Five of these appeals were dismissed. In two cases, as a result of acceptance as valid votes of what were previously considered as void by the Returning Officers, result of elections in two Constituencies were upset. In West Pakistan the total number of appeals filed was nineteen out of which twelve pertained to the Northern Zone and seven belonged to the Southern Zone. In none of these cases were the results upset although the total number of votes secured by certain candidates were readjusted as a result of the recount.

Grounds for appeal.

7. Appeals were filed mainly on the ground firstly that the electors had not marked the ballot papers at the appropriate place provided for the purpose on the ballot paper and secondly that the cross marks put on the ballot papers were of peculiar shapes and styles with the intention that the elector may be identified. The Chief Election Commissioner as well as the Members held in all the cases that the cross mark even though not at appropriate places, would be considered correct if the intention of the elector could be clearly made out that he wanted to vote for a particular person. So far as the peculiarities about the shape and style of the cross mark were concerned it was held that these marks were in most of the cases of the same nature and could not be identified with a particular elector and as such ballot papers with such marks could not be declared as void. As a result of recount certain ballot papers of the rival parties were made valid or invalid and the count corrected accordingly. The consequential orders were made with regard to the total number of votes secured by each party to the appeal as a result of the recount by the Commission.

8. As in no case was the appeal found to be of a frivolous or vexatious nature, the security deposits were all ordered to be refunded to the appellants.

Election petitions.

9. Election petitions under Settlement of Disputes (First Elections) Order, 1962 are to be filed within thirty days next following the date of the publication of results by the Commission under article 18 or under article 39 of P. O. 4 of 1962. The petition could be made by any candidate and could be presented to the Secretary, Election Commission by the petitioner himself or by a person authorised by him in this behalf in writing in cases of Quetta, Kalat, Karachi, Hyderabad, Khairpur and Bahawalpur Divisions and in respect of the remaining Divisions of West Pakistan to the Regional Election Commissioner, West Pakistan,

Lahore. The petitions from East Pakistan could be filed with the Regional Election Commissioner, East Pakistan, Dacca. Petitions, if not filed in person, could be sent to the appropriate authorities by registered post. Where the petitioner was a contesting candidate he was to join as respondents to his petition all other contesting candidates and a copy of the petition was to be served upon each respondent by the petitioner. The petition was to contain a summary of the material facts on which the petitioner relied and was to set forth full particulars of the corrupt/illegal practices or other illegal acts alleged by the petitioner giving full details of the names, places and addresses involved in the Commission of such practices or illegal acts. Every petition and every schedule or annexe to the petition was required to be signed by the petitioner and verified in the manner as laid down in the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 (Act V of 1908) for verification of pleadings. Every petition was to be accompanied by a receipt showing that the petitioner had deposited a sum of Rs. 500 in the name of the Secretary, Election Commission. The petitions can be dismissed by the Commission if—

Dismissal of Petitions by the Election Commission.

(i) the election petition was not submitted in person by the petitioner himself or by a person duly authorised in this behalf or by registered post ; or

(ii) copies of the petition were not served on all the Respondents ; or

(iii) the election petition was not presented within the prescribed time ; or

(iv) proof of the security deposit did not accompany the election petition.

Appointment of Tribunals.

10. The aggregate number of election petitions filed is 100. Out of these, 21 were filed in East Pakistan, 52 with the Regional Election Commissioner, West Pakistan, Lahore and 27 with the Commission Secretariat at Karachi. The Table showing the constituencies to which these petitions pertain is given in Appendix XVII. Out of 100 election petitions, six were dismissed by the Commission for the defects mentioned above and one was returned to the applicant as it could not be termed an election petition. Thus there remained 18 election petitions in East Pakistan and 75 in West Pakistan to be disposed of by the Tribunals. These Tribunals were replaced by high powered Tribunals under the Settlement of Disputes (First Elections) (Amendment) Order, 1962. Each of these Tribunals consists of a sitting Judge of the High Court, a District Judge and a person qualified to be a Judge of the High Court or an advocate with 10 years standing. One Tribunal has been set up in East Pakitan and two in West Pakistan. Out of these two Tribunals created for West Pakistan, one has been stationed at Karachi and the other at Lahore. These Tribunals could hold their sittings not only at their headquarters but could do so at other places also as may be convenient to them or to the parties. The Tribunals having commenced their work are expected to complete it within a period of six months.

CHAPTER XVIII

ASSISTANCE GIVEN BY EXECUTIVE AUTHORITY

Article 163 lays down :

" It shall be the duty of all executive authorities to assist the Commissioner and any Election Commission in the discharge of his or its functions. "

2. Article 153(3) lays down the duties of the Election Commission :

"It shall be the duty of an Election Commission constituted in relation to an election or referendum to conduct the election or referendum, and to make such arrangements as are necessary to ensure that the election is conducted honestly, justly, fairly and in accordance with the law and that corrupt practices are guarded against."

3. It was, therefore, necessary to enlist the cooperation of the Central and Provincial Government staff specially as the Commission did not propose to employ any field staff of its own.

4. The Central Government wrote to the Provincial Governments who in turn asked their officers in the Divisions and Districts to cooperate fully with the Commission.

5. Detailed letters were addressed to the Commissioners and to the Deputy Commissioners indicating fully what was wanted of them.

6. The Commission a s addressed full instructions to the Registration and R turn'ng Officers as also to the Presiding Officers.

7. The functions and duties of the electors and candidates were also set down in writing.

8. The instructions were kept uptodate and were issued well in time with reference to the relevant dates of the Election programme. For instance, the instructions for the Returning Officers were issued well before the nomination day.

9. It is a matter of considerable satisfaction to note that the detailed instructions issued by the Commission were studied and followed by the officials at all levels and many of them showed their keen interest by querying some of the instructions and by seeking clarifications. As a result, some of the instructions were amplified and the work went on and was finished without any hitch which fact is a great tribute to the cooperation shown by executive authorities.

10. Instructions issued from Karachi as a result of the deliberations of the Commission were ably supported by supplementary instructions issued by each Regional Office under the guidance of the Member of the Commission for the Region. The members kept a strong grip on the pattern within their Regions for which they were made responsible. There was close cooperation between the Members and the Provincial Governments.

APPENDICES

APPENDIX I

RESOLUTIONS OF THE ELECTION COMMISSION

1. Discussion of constitutional provisions :

Contents of the resolution.	Date of meetings
1. As the position with regard to disqualifications of candidates under Article 103(2)(a) is not very clear and a number of enquiries have been received, a reference might be made by the Chairman to the Central Government for clarification.	24-3-1962

2. (a) Discussion on draft laws :

2. In the draft law the penalty clause under the Meetings Chapter should cover the contingency where a question, the publication of which is prohibited, is published.	18-3-1962
3. Prohibition of meetings called by others should be for meetings in the constituency on the day an official meeting is held of candidates and electors.	18-3-1962
4. The delegation of powers by the Commission should be to Chief Election Commissioner and to any member directly and not as now drafted.	18-3-1962
5. The law should provide for a challenge of the identity of an elector.	18-3-1962
6. The law with regard to referendums etc., and for elections after the 1st meeting of the National Assembly should also be kept ready for use in case it may be required.	18-3-1962
7. The proposers and seconders for the seats reserved exclusively for women should be the electors from the respective zones.	23-3-1962
8. The supplementary law which has yet to be made with regard to election disputes should be now drafted by the Law Ministry who should be reminded in the matter.	24-3-1962
9. It was finally decided that the proposer and seconder should be from amongst persons already elected to the Provincial Assembly but they should be representatives of constituencies which are within the zones concerned.	8-4-1962
10. The draft of the law with regard to Presidential election and referendum should be taken up as soon as possible. The supplementary law with regard to election disputes should now be hurried through.	26-3-1962
11. The same security deposit shall apply as in the case of general seats and the same nomination form may be used.	8-4-1962
12. The colour of the ballot paper for a zone should be different in each case for the same Assembly. The voters should be given all five (or all three) ballot papers at one time. They	8-4-1962 should be asked to mark the ballot papers so that there is one vote marked on each ballot paper. All the forms may be put into any one of the 2 or 3 ballot boxes which may be kept on the Presiding Officer's table. No symbols need be used. Ballot paper entries should be in English and Bengali or in English and Urdu.

8-4-1962 13. A certificate will be required from each candidate as per the substituted provisions of Article 103(1)(a).

8-4-1962 14. Chapter II of the National and Provincial Assemblies (First Elections) Order, 1962 may not apply. Chapter III may be suitably modified, Regional Election Commissioner being nominated as the Returning Officer who will also act as the Presiding Officer. There shall be only one notification. A notification under article 9 may prescribe the actual programme. There need be no election agents. If a candidate does not appear at the polling herself, her interests may be looked after by any person authorised by her in this behalf. Chapter IV will apply and also Chapter V with the modification that a simple affidavit may be sufficient instead of the returns of elections expenses as per article 54. The rest of the provisions of this Chapter may be suitably modified. Chapter VI, VII and VIII will remain.

8-4-1962 15. The Polling Officers may be appointed by the Commission. Power to do so may be delegated to the Members by the Commission.

8-4-1962 16. The Gazette Notification with regard to the election of the members of the Provincial Assembly from the general seats will be the list of voters for the polling.

8-4-1962 17. The citation of the directions so framed shall quote article 45 of the National and Provincial Assemblies (First Elections) Order, 1962 as read with Article 169 of the Constitution. The procedure should be laid down in a self-contained manner except where whole Chapters are left in. Copies of the procedure thus laid down may be printed.

8-4-1962 18. The draft prepared at one stage by the Deputy Draftsman with regard to the election disputes was then discussed and the following points raised :—

(i) Sections 53 and 54 : The Commission should have the authority to appoint any District Judge with regard to any constituency instead of having to appoint the District Judge of the district in which the disputed constituency lies and then being enabled to transfer the same to any other Judge.

(ii) Sections 64(2) (a), 64(3), 64(4)(b) (iii), 65, 66 and 75 should be deleted.

(iii) A distinction should be made by definition of appeal and petition between what comes to the Commission and what goes to the Election Tribunal for this purpose.

(iv) The powers of the Commission in section 50(2) may be delegated to the members and for this purpose a provision like that of article 82 of the National and Provincial Assemblies (First Elections) Order, 1962 should be available.

(v) With the filing of an appeal with the Commission against count a security deposit should be provided for which may be forfeited partly or wholly in case the Commission finds that the appeal was filed on frivolous grounds.

(vi) The Commission should have the power to withhold publication of the result of any constituency election at its discretion pending disposal of the election appeal. This may, however, be not provided for now and may be kept in view for the permanent law.

(vii) The appeal or application should be filed within 3 days of the count and objections must have been taken before the Returning Officer against an acceptance or rejection or a request must have been made for a recount under article 37 of the National and Provincial Assemblies (First Elections) Order, 1962 and the alleged acceptance or rejection should have caused material difference for which an affidavit should accompany the appeal. Accompanying the appeal should also be a copy of the statement under article 37(6) of the National and Provincial Assemblies (First Elections) Order, 1962.

(viii) In some instances it may happen that material irregularities are committed at the receipt or scrutiny of nominations stage or later. It would be worthwhile for the Commission to have the power to cancel specified proceedings and order fresh action. It may, however, be seen that a provision of such a kind may not go against the constitutional provision which lays down that the disputes other than regarding count have to be finally decided by an Election Tribunal. It may not be correct if any action taken by the Commission is later challenged before the Tribunal which will be appointed by the Commission.

2. (b) Discussion of Laws and draft Rules :

19. The draft notification under article 5 of the new law was seen and approved. 18-3-1962

20. It should be specified by rules that the mark to be made by an elector on the ballot paper issued to him should be in the form of "X" and only one such mark be made and that it should be made in the space provided for it against the name and symbol of the candidate for whom the elector wishes to vote. It should also be pointed out to the Returning Officer that this rule should be interpreted liberally so that if the intention of the elector was not to disclose his identity by putting a wrong mark and if the intention can be safely presumed as that of voting for a parti- 24-3-1962 cular candidate, then the ballot paper should not be rejected merely because the mark has not been properly made.

24-3-1962 21. A detailed procedure should be prescribed by rules for the Returning Officers to maintain a register and for the issue of receipts for deposits made at the time of nominations under article 12. It should be ensured that each entry is attested by the Returning Officer and the disposal of each refund is properly entered.

26-3-1962 22. The draft Rules were examined and approved and suitable changes made. For this purpose Mr. Mujahid Husain, the Draftsman of the Law Ministry was also present and assisted.

8-4-1962 23. It was pointed out by Secretary, Basic Domocracies, that there is a lacuna in the manner in which the oath is to be taken. The direction of the President does not envisage a situation where either a Chairman of the Local Council is an appointed member or where he is illiterate or is not able, for some reason, to attend the meeting wherein oaths are administered. It was decided that the relevant notification may be suitably modified to provide for these contingencies.

8-4-1962 24. It is agreed that cases where an elector is physically incapacitated but appears at the polling station to cast his vote should be provided for. He may be allowed a companion who may mark the ballot paper.

8-4-1962 25. A form should be prescribed and printed copies supplied for entries by the Presiding Officers as under article 35(4) of the National and Provincial Assemblies (First Elections) Order, 1962. That may be called the form for ballot paper account. Cyclostyled form should also be sent for the Returnning Officers to certify the receipt of material for the polling stations within constituency.

8-4-1962 26. In article 40, provision should be made for refund of deposit in case all the nomination papers of a candidate are rejected.

8-4-1962 27. Mr. Justice Mujibur Rahman's suggestion to amend rule 5 with regard to the mark to be put on the ballot paper was discussed. It was felt that any further description of the mark or laying down that a paper shall not be void if the mark is found defective or deficient is only likely to make matters worse. It may, however, be clarified to the Returning Officers that they may reject a mark only if it comes within the mischief of article 37(a).

8-5-1962 28. Provisions of rule 12 of the National and Provincial Assemblies (First Elections) Rules, 1962, should be extended to cover issue of copies of such other orders and documents as may be allowed.

18-6-1962 29. Copies of Orders etc., with reference to President's Order No. 13 of 1962 should be allowed in the same way as in the rules under President's Order No. 4 of 1962. The rules under President's Order No. 13 of 1962 may be amended accordingly.

30. Steps should be taken to get article 77 of President's Order No. 4 of 1962 to be amended to read as follows :— 18-6-1962

> "77. Where a person has been convicted for any offence under this Order, or where a Tribunal has recorded an order of guilty against him under sub-clause (ii) of clause 2(a) of article 26 of President's Order No. 13 of 1962, he shall, if the Commission makes an order to that effect, be disqualified from being, or being elected as, a member of any Assembly for such period, not exceeding four years, as may be specified in such order."

31. There being no provision for delegation of powers in President's Order No. 10 of 1962 which is also not by way of an amendment of President's Order No. 4 of 1962, an amendment is necessary to be carried out so that it may be possible to delegate the powers of the Commission to the members in case of reviews of rejected nominations. This will have to be with retrospective effect. The Law Ministry should be approached. 18-6-1962

3. Arrangements for elections :

32. The preliminary action taken in connection with arrangements for Elections was reviewed. 18-3-1962

33. Each Presiding Officer should be given a big round seal to be stamped on the back of the ballot papers so that a part of the stamp may be visible even when the paper is folded. It may bear "General Elections, 1962" and have place for the initials of the Presiding Officer. It would be better if a number for each polling station appears on the seal. 18-3-1962

34. Telegraphic instructions should issue to Returning Officers confirming that their constituencies have remained unchanged or informing them of the changes made, finally, so that they may keep their Electors' lists correct. 18-3-1962

35. The minutes for the meeting on the 18th should include the decision taken to approve the lists of Registration and Returning Officers. 27-3-1962

36. For East Pakistan a water-proof bag should be provided so that papers and documents may be transported in it without exposing them to water. 18-3-1962

37. The Electors' list should be published in the constituency and people should be asked to check if there are any mistakes which may be pointed out to the Registration Officer who should himself also check the list and keep it up-to-date upto polling day. 23-3-1962

38. A seal should be stamped on each ballot paper and the counterfoil so that half the seal is on the ballot paper and the other on the counterfoil. This should be done before despatch of ballot papers from Karachi, Lahore and Dacca. 23-3-1962

24-3-1962 39. The form of the oath as translated by the Governments of East and West Pakistan in Bengali and Urdu should be printed as also such other translations as may have been done in other Divisions in some other languages. These translations may be circulated through the Regional Eelection Commissioners so that every Presiding Officer may have them handy to facilitate administration of the oath to an elector in the language which he understands.

24-3-1962 40. At each polling station there should be two seals marked "National Assembly" and "Provincial Assembly" respectively. The word "Election" should appear in the centre and the Presiding Officer shall put his initials in the centre of the same on the ballot paper. These seals should be used on the back of the ballot papers, before issue, as the official mark prescribed in article 32(d) of the Law.

24-3-1962 41. The decision taken on 23rd March, 1962 that there should be a seal to be stamped simultaneously on the ballot paper and the counterfoil so as to ensure the correct origin of the ballot paper was given up as that might contravene the provisions of article 27(2).

24-3-1962 42. The Commission saw the proposed symbols. It was decided that the 'clock', the 'goat' and the 'cock' should not be used. Instead an 'elephant' and a 'boat' may be introduced.

24-3-1962 43. The Commission re-assembled at 4-30 p.m. It was decided that the mark to be put by the elector on the ballot paper should be properly displayed and advertised through Press, by Radio and Posters, etc.

26-3-1962 44. An attempt may be made to use a perforating machine so that the ballot papers may be perforated suitably after receipt from the Press and before issue to the Returning Officers.

26-3-1962 45. The Commission approved that the ballot boxes available with it should be the ballot boxes to be supplied for the poll. They are made of steel, are of standard size, are welded and have a particular locking arrangement (article 28).

26-3-1962 46. It will be convenient to arrange a meeting of the electors attached to each polling station. In case the polling area is common to a National and a Provincial Assembly constituency, the opportunity may be taken to hold a meeting for each of the two constituencies with reference to that area on the same day. The electors may be addressed by, and may question, all the candidates of one constituency and, after an interval, the candidates of the other constituency may face the electors.

26-3-1962 47. The candidates may address the meeting one after another, each candidate being questioned immediately after his address.

26-3-1962 48. The Deputy Commissioners will make the arrangments and they should as far as possible see that members of the judicial service are asked to preside. If no such cfflcer is available then the names of suitable non-official non-partisans may be suggested. It will not be binding on the Deputy Commissioners to arrange meetings polling station-wise, if another arrangement is more convenient administratively; there need be no bar against it.

49. The Deputy Commissioners should make out a programme for their districts and send it to the Commission for its approval. It should be clearly understood that notices must reach all the candidates and the electors. The Deputy Commissioners should be informed that no T.A. or D.A. will be admissible to the electors or to the candidates and that arrangements for seating, for loudspeakers, if necessary, for securing buildings in which to hold the meetings etc., will all be done by the Deputy Commissioners. The Commission may re-imburse the minimum unavoidable expenditure for which estimates may be called. 26-3-1962

50. The meetings programme in the districts should finish about one week before the polling day and may start immediately after withdrawals. 26-3-1962

51. The form of the Ballot paper was approved. 27-3-1962

52. It was suggested that the symbols to be used should be published in the newspapers for general information. It was also pointed out that it may cause confusion if the same symbols are used for National and Provincial constituencies in the same area. It was agreed that the symbols would be allotted first to the National Assembly candidates and the next symbols on the list be allotted to the Provincial Assembly candidates. If the list of symbols is exhausted then only symbols from serial No. 1 onwards may be used for the Provincial Assembly candidates. 28-4-1962

53. It was decided that care must be taken to see that Union Councils etc. attached to each polling station are widely known. Suitable steps should be taken to see that it is done. 8-4-1962

54. It was decided that the same colour should be used for the ballot paper in East Pakistan as for West Pakistan and that the name entries in English and Bengali or English and Urdu should be one on top of the other and not in the same line, care being taken to separate these entries of one candidate from those of the following one. 8-5-1962

4. Election Programmes:

55. The proposed Election Programme was discussed and tentatively finalised. It will be taken up for finalisation at the next meeting. The nomination day for National and Provincial General seats and the scrutiny day may be 4th April, 1962 and 5th April, 1962 and the unopposed candidates may be declared elected on 6th April, 1962. As regards the Reserved seats, the elections may be held on 27th May, 1962 and 29th May, 1962, the Provincial seats being filled first. The women elected to Provincial Reserved seats will also be asked to elect to National 18-3-1962

Reserved seats. The first meetings of the National and Provincial Assemblies will be summoned by the President and the Governors. This may be checked. In that case the President and the Governors will be informed about the date after which the Assemblies could meet.

23-3-1962 56. The Election Programme was finally decided and the following dates fixed:

(i) Date of notification under article 5 for all constituencies except those in which the electors are yet to be selected from Tribal Areas	25-3-1962
(ii) Nomination day	4-4-1962
(iii) Scrutiny	5-4-1962
(iv) Last day for withdrawals (National Assembly)	10-4-1962
(v) Polling day (National Assembly) .	28-4-1962
(vi) The count and declaration of results by the Returning Officers to be done before this date.	1-5-1962
(vii) Gazette notification of results (National Assembly)	7-5-1962
(viii) Last day for withdrawals (Provincial Assemblies).	12-4-1962
(ix) Polling day (Provincial Assemblies)	6-5-1962
(x) Final count and declaration of results by Returning Officers to be done before this date	9-5-1962
(xi) Gazette notification of results (Provincial Assemblies).	14-5-1962

This will refer to the general seats in the two Assemblies. As far as the Tribal Areas constituencies which are not notified on 25th March, 1962 are concerned, the notification will appear, if possible, on the 27th March, 1962 so that the polling day, etc. may remain the same as for the other constituencies.

27-3-1962 57. A reference with regard to changing the date for receipt of nominations for the Provincial Assemblies so that the nominations for the National Assembly and the Provincial Assemblies may be on different dates was discussed. It was felt that any such change now will only cause confusion.

8-4-1962 58. Commissioner, Chittagong, pointed out that it may not be possible for the polling station papers to be received back by the Returning Officers from distant polling stations in his Division (specially Sylhet). It was agreed that the last date for counting be notified as the 3rd of May for National Assembly and as the 11th of May for the Provincial Assembly, but care should be taken to see that counting is done as soon as possible before those dates.

59. The Commission approved the postponement of nominations and scrutiny in PW-44 (Peshawar Agency-VI) and also approved the dates 15th, 16th and 19th for nominations, scrutiny and last day for withdrawal. 8-4-1962

60. The programme for elections should be as follows:— 8-4-1962

12th May, 1962	Notice inviting nominations
17th May, 1962	Nominations
18th May, 1962	Scrutiny
20th May, 1962	Last date for withdrawal
26th May, 1962	Meetings for the candidates to face the electors
27th May, 1962	Elections to the Provincial exclusively reserved seats
28th May, 1962	Gazette Notification
29th May, 1962	Elections to the National exclusively reserved seats
30th May, 1962	Gazette Notification

61. As regards elections to the seats reserved exclusively for women it was decided that the nomination day should be 17th of May only and that withdrawals may be on or before the 24th. The direction in this connection should be suitably modified to say that candidature may be withdrawn upto a date to be specified which should not be less than 3 days before the polling day. A Press release may be issued clarifying the various points for the elections to seats exclusively reserved for women. 8-5-1962

5. Delegation of Powers :

62. The delegation of powers from the Commission to the Chief Election Commissioner and to the members may be spelled out in a general way as well as specifically with reference to the National and Provincial Assemblies (First Elections) Order, 1962. 24-3-1962

63. The following delegation of powers to the members was decided on:— 26-3-1962

Article 3.—As Registration Officers have already been appointed if there is any call for re-appointment in any constituency this may be disposed of by the members under intimation to the Commission.

Article 6.—Re-appointments of Returning Officers to be dealt with as above for Registration Officers.

Article 7.—The Returning Officers should send the lists of polling stations to the Commission as well as to the Regional Election Commissioners so that the members may approve the lists pertaining to their Regions after such alterations as they think necessary and send them to the Commission for publication after the places from where unopposed election returns have come in are known.

Article 17.—A member may take action under this article without reference to the Commission, if the date of poll does not have to be changed. If there has to be a shift of the polling day they should first get into touch with the Chief Election Commissioner.

Article 25.—The Returning Officers should be told that the hours of poll shall be from 9.00 a.m. to 2.00 p.m. If any Returning Officer wants any variation he should get the approval of the member concerned.

Article 26.—The action to be taken under "adjourned poll" be delegated to the members.

In general, each member will supervise the work of his Region and of the Regional Office. The Regional Election Commissioners will be kept fully in the picture with regard to the delegation of powers and they will keep the members fully posted. All general directions issuing from the Commission, copies of of which are sent to the Regional Election Commissioners will also be marked to members.

26-3-1962 64. All publications and notifications which are to be issued by the Commission may be done by the Chief Election Commissioner who may also take such other emergent action as may be necessary in anticipation of Commission's approval.

26-3-1962 65. No delegation of powers under articles 74, 77, 79, 8 1, 85 and 86 need be made.

26-3-1962 66. The orders of a member in the exercise of the delegated powers will apply to his Region.

26-3-1962 67. All powers delegated to members will also be exercisable by the Chief Election Commissioner.

8-4-1962 68. The places where the polling will be held may be fixed by the Commission.

8-5-1962 69. It was decided to delegate all the powers of the Commission with regard to appeals under the Settlement of Disputes Order to the members and also to the Chief Election Commissioner. The Chief Election Commissioner will deal with cases arising from the Karachi, Kalat, Quetta, Khairpur, Hyderabad and Bahawalpur Divisions. The Member for West Pakistan will deal with cases arising from D. I. Khan, Peshawar, Rawalpindi, Sargodha, Lahore and Multan Divisions.

8-5-1962 70. The powers of the Commission with regard to election petitions under the Settlement of Disputes Order with regard to summary dismissal are also delegated to the Chief Election Commissioner and the members in the same way.

8-5-1962 71. The powers of the Commission with regard to elections to seats exclusively reserved for women are also delegated to the members to the same extent as with regard to appeals. They shall make all the necessary arrangements. It should be ascertained whether the Assembly Chambers in the two Provinces will be available for conducting the meetings and for holding the poll. If they are not available for any reason the members will select and announce alternative places and also arrange for persons to preside at these meetings.

72. The Commission was informed of the theft and subsequent recovery of the ballot papers from Mehdiganj polling station of PE-43. The member was authorised to enquire into the facts and if necessary to act under article 81 (a) read with article 84 of the National and Provincial Assemblies (First Elections) Order and order fresh poll for the polling station. The date should be fixed so that the Gazette notification can be made in time for the women's election. In the meantime there should be no count of the ballot papers from the other polling stations in the constituency. 8-5-1962

73. It was agreed that the powers to transfer election petition cases under article 18 (President's Order No. 13 of 1962) be delegated. Wherever District Judges are out of station for long duration, or vacations, it would be an advantage to transfer petitions to the Additional District Judges. 18-6-1962

74. The powers to institute enquiries under article 74 (President's Order No. 4 of 1962) be also delegated. 18-6-1962

75. In the particular case (from Noakhali) referred to by East Pakistan member the power to institute prosecution if necessary, be also delegated. 18-6-1962

6. Information on action taken by Chief Election Commissioner :

76. He also informed them of the qualification as directed by him for substitution in Article 103(1)(a) of the Constitution. The notification dated 7th March, 1962 was read and noted. 18-3-1962

77. The reference made for the determination, by the President, of the manner in which the oath is to be administered to the Electors, was seen along with the President's approval. The Commission noted that the Chief Secretaries of the Provincial Governments have been requested to arrange that the oath is administered and a certificate of the fact entered on each identity card. The Commission felt that due publicity should be given in this behalf and it should be ensured that the identity cards are suitably endorsed after the oath is taken. 18-3-1962

78. The Chief Election Commissioner informed the members about the progress of Delimitation of Constituencies which he hoped to finalise on 23rd March, 1962 at Karachi so that the final delimitation could be published on 24th March, 1962. In the final publication the form of notification will conform to the scheme as in Article 229(4) and (6). 18-3-1962

7. Instructions :

79. While electors must be asked to produce their identity cards at the polling stations the Presiding Officers should be instructed that they have to satisfy themselves of the identity of the elector and that the non-production of the identity card by 18-3-1962 itself is not sufficient for the Presiding Officer to reject the elector nor is the productin of an identity card necessarily sufficient by itself to establish the identity of the person producing it.

23-3-1962 80. The instructions to be issued to the Returning Officers should be simple and only in regard to the action he is supposed to take immediately. For the time being, instructions may issue for action up to the stage of withdrawals.

24-3-1962 81. The following should be ensured either by rules or through instructions:—

(i) The Presiding Officer should not refuse a ballot paper to a person whose name is entered in the Electors' list, for the reason that such a person has incurred any disqualifications after the date of notification under article 5. The Presiding Officer should only satisfy himself about the identity of the elector when he presents himself at the polling station. It may, however, be suggested that it would be advisable for every elector to produce his identity card before the Presiding Officer so as to facilitate a check on his identity.

(ii) When an elector presents himself at the polling station he should be asked if he has his identity card with him. If he has, it should be checked to see whether he has taken the oath. The fact of his having taken the oath would be certified to on the card. If no such certificate appears, or if he has not brought his identity card, he should be asked if he has taken the oath. If he has not so taken the oath, the Presiding Officer should warn him that it is an offence to cast a vote without having taken the oath and should then offer to administer oath before the issue of a ballot paper.

26-3-1962 82. It should be explained to the Returning Officers that any errors or deviations in serial numbers etc., which take place in the filling in of the nomination forms may be allowed to be corrected suitably. The Registration Officers should also be asked specifically to correct any similar mistakes as may be pointed out in the Electors' lists.

26-3-1962 83. The names of contesting candidates written in the same manner as in their nomination papers should be arranged in alphabetical order (in English) after the time for withdrawals is over. A list of names of symbols arranged alphabetically (in English) should be supplied to the Returning Officers. The symbol to be allotted to a candidate from among the symbols on the list shall bear the same serial number as the serial number of the candidate's name in the list of contesting candidates.

26-3-1962 84. It should be clarified under article 30 that a person who is detained should be allowed to vote, if he is an elector, at a polling station to which he is allotted before being sent away for detention.

26-3-1962 85. Instructions should issue that the Treasury receipts should be pasted on the Deposits Register as provided for in the Rules and that the Register should be sent to the Commission after the items in it are disposed of.

86. It should be made clear to Presiding Officers that if an elector has not taken the oath he will not be issued a ballot paper. The Presiding Officer should take steps to warn the elector that voting without having taken the oath is an offence punishable with a fine of upto Rs. 500/-. However, the Presiding Officer need not enquire into a statement from the elector about the latter having taken the oath. If he says he has taken the oath that should be sufficient for the purpose. If, however, the elector says he has not taken the oath, the Presiding Officer should offer to administer the oath to him. If the elector refuses, no ballot paper need be issued to him. 26-3-1962

87. Article 37(2)(a) should be explained to the Returning Officers through instructions so that on the one hand he should be liberal enough and on the other where he suspects that the intention of the elector was that he may be identified through his mark, the ballot peper should be rejected. 26-3-1962

88. It has been indicated separately that the persons presiding at the meetings may, if they find difficulty of accommodation etc. and if it becomes necessary, control entry of the general public to such meetings. The Deputy Commissioner should arrange for the maintenance of Law and Order at these meetings. It would be advantageous to depute an officer and to make such police arrangements as may be necessary. It would, of course, not be necessary for the Magistrate to attend the actual meeting. No verbatim notes need be taken down but the Deputy Commissioners may be asked to gather reports of these meetings from the persons presiding at the meetings and these reports may form the basis of district-wise reports to be sent to the Commission by the Deputy Commissioners. 8-4-1962

89. A proforma may be prescribed for the Chairmen of these meetings wherein they could mention the approximate number of persons attending (including the electors and the candidates) and general conduct of the meeting itself mentioning such questions as may have been disallowed and commenting on the level of questions asked and answers given. The Chairmen may perhaps explain at the start of the meeting the procedure to be followed. It would be best if candidates are asked to address the gathering one at a time and as soon as a candidate finishes the address the electors may question him. The addresses and the questions will be confined to the aims and objects of the candidates and have a bearing on his candidature. Suitable time limits for the addresses and the questions may be prescribed. If possible, separate enclosures may be made for the electors, the press, the candidates and the general public. 8-4-1962

90. The Chief Election Commissioner pointed out that it would not be binding on the elector to produce his identity card at the polling station. It would, however, be advantageous if he did produce it. In either case it is the duty of the Presiding Officer to satisfy himself about the identity of the person asking for a ballot paper. A ballot paper may not be refused merely because there are some mistakes in the spelling of his name in the electors' list or for any such unsubstantial reasons. 8-4-1962

8-4-1962 91. The Chief Election Cmmissioner stressed that Returning Officers must interpret the law liberally so that merely on technical grounds action may not be taken which would add unnecessarily to difficulties. Even the law has stressed that unsubstantial errors or omissions should be corrected. Mere technicality must not stand in the way of allowing full scope to candidates, electors etc.

8-4-1962 92. The position with regard to holding of meetings meant for the candidates to face the elctors was fully explained. While it is essential that arrangements should be made for such meetings, attendance is not compulsory nor would the electors or the candidates be paid any T. A. or D. A.

8-4-1962 93. If the elector makes a statement that he has already taken the oath that should be enough for the Presiding Officer in this respect. If the elector has not taken the oath previously, the Presiding Officer should administer the oath to him, but if the elector refuses, even though he has not previously taken the oath, the Presiding Officer should not then give him a ballot paper. It will not be necessary for the Presiding Officer to hold an enquiry and take evidence to show that the elector has or has not taken the oath.

8-4-1962 94. The Chief Election Commissioner stressed the need for the Commissioners and the Deputy Commissioners to hold meetings of Deputy Commissioners and Returning Officers to explain fully the procedure from now onwards. Advantage should be taken of these meetings to demonstrate the operation of ballot boxes as also to demonstrate the procedure at polling stations for which purpose it would be a good idea to have a model polling station—one in each sub-Division.

18-6-1962 95. The Returning Officers should be instructed to file complaints against non-submission and delayed submission of Election Expenses Returns, and in cases where expenses exceed the allowed limits, under intimation to the Commission.

8. Complaints :

8-5-1962 96. Member for West Pakistan brought up a complaint against Begum G. A. Khan misusing the Girls Guide Organisation. It was decided to send the complaint to the Governor's Secretariat.

9. Miscellaneous :

18-3-1962 97. The next meeting be held in Karachi on 23rd March, 1962 when the Programme and the Rules to be framed will be finalised. In the meantime sanction etc. should be arranged for the T.A., D.A., etc. of members and for their personal staff and the necessary notifications may issue.

18-3-1962 98. A Press conference be arranged for 24th March, 1962 in the afternoon so that the Press can be briefed about the Election Programme, and arrangements, before notification calling on constitutencies to elect their members is issued on 25th March, 1962.

99. The material prepared for the Press conference to be held on 24th March 1962 at 5.30 p.m. was approved with some modifications. 23-3-1962

100. It should be widely publicised in the Press, and through the Radio, that it is an offence to vote without taking the oath. 26-3-1962

101. The nomination form should be priced at one anna per form but candidates may use other than our printed forms. 26-3-1962

102. The Chief Election Commissioner pointed out that a clarification issued by the Provincial Government with regard to the teachers of private Intermediate Colleges and schools being debarred from seeking election has caused some confusion in the minds of Returning Officers. It was suggested that such clarifications may first be cleared with the Election Commission or the Member who is located at the Provincial headquarters as it would not be correct for officials employed on election work to take instructions, or to feel that they are bound to take instructions from the Provincial Government in election matters. 8-4-1962

103. Mr. N.A. Faruqui may be informed that according to the programme of elections, the elections will be completed by 1st June, 1962 so that steps may be taken to call the National and Provincial Assemblies after that date. 8-4-1962

104. The notice issued by the High Court in the Writ Petition filed by Col. Haider against the election of Mir Ghulam Ali Talpur was seen by the Commission. It was decided to ascertain the full facts from the Returning Officer and to point out to the High Court that a report is being called and that since the filing of the Writ Petition the Settlement of Disputes Order has been promulgated which provides a remedy by way of election petitions. 8-5-1962

105. It was also decided that as the allegation, that Mir Ghulam Ali Talpur is disqualified, may or may not be correct it would be best not to exercise the powers under article 81(a) of the National and Provincial Assemblies (First Elections) Order but to leave the decision to the Election Tribunal if an election petition is filed. 8-5-1962

106. The Commission perused the application filed by Captain Zaidi of Faridpur District. It was not accompanied by a security deposit nor did it purport to be an election petition or an election appeal. It was decided to return the application to the applicant and to inform him that he may, if so advised, file an election petition on the facts alleged. 8-5-1962

107. The Commission heard the appeal against count filed by Mr. H. M. Habibullah against the election of Mr. Siddique in constituency NW-2 Karachi-II and rejected the appeal while upholding the election of Mr. Siddique. The security deposit was ordered to be refunded. 8-5-1962

108. Member from East Pakistan brought up the question of payment of Honoraria to the staff of the Election Commission, the Regional Election Commissioner and the Returning and Presiding Officers etc. It was decided to examine the question and take suitable action. The estimate etc. may be placed before the Commission at its next meeting. 8-5-1962

8-5-1962 109. The next meeting may be held in Lahore sometime during the first week of June at the convenience specially of member from East Pakistan. The Chief Election Commissioner indicated that he may visit Dacca on the 25th and 27th of May and Lahore on the 28th and 29th.

18-6-1962 110. It was noted that the Commission has already decided the points, now referred by the West Pakistan member, at its meeting in Karachi where the first appeal was heard by the Commission. It was agreed that the three appeals now before the Commission on reference from West Pakistan member be disposed of by the member himself in the light of the previous decisions. It was also agreed that there may be no need to reopen appeals which are once summarily dismissed or rejected as time barred unless some fresh and material point is brought out.

18-6-1962 111. The members of Provincial Assemblies have reminded East Pakistan member about their T.A.s and D.A.s for attending candidate-elector meetings for women's elections. This may be referred to Mr. Faruqui.

18-6-1962 112. It was decided that the Commission may cease to function with effect from 30th June, 1962 (afternoon) and that Mr. Faruqui may be informed accordingly. Another meeting of the Commission may be held in Karachi before that date if necessary. East Pakistan member may discuss in Rawalpindi, in the meantime, the various points now pending with regard to Election Laws.

18-6-1962 113. The Election Report should be factual and may be circulated if necessary to the members for their information. Meantime any point that the members may like to be included may be sent to the Headquarters Secretariat in Karachi.

18-6-1962 114. A sum of Rs. 23,000/- was agreed to be allocated to each of the two provinces for grant of honorarium to personnel engaged in Election work in the Districts/Sub-Divisions. It was further decided that out of the above mentioned amounts a sum of Rs. 400/- be allocated to each District in West Pakistan.

18-6-1962 115. The Chief Election Commissioner mentioned that the President desired him to convey to all concerned his keen appreciation of the work, done by the Commission and its staff. Chief Election Commissioner thanked the members for their cooperation and help without which the work would not have been possible. The Chief Election Commissioner and the members also desired to record and convey their appreciation of the hard work put in by the Commission's Secretariat.

APPENDIX IV

INSTRUCTIONS FOR RETURNING OFFICERS

The Returning Officer for a Constituency is responsible for the proper conduct of the entire election proceedings at an election in his Constituency for which he is appointed the Returning Officer. He has to carry out these duties under the general directions and supervision of the Election Commission and as provided for by law, rules and instructions.

The election proceedings start with the issue of a notification by the Election Commission calling upon the Electors of the Constituency to elect a representative. Such a notification with regard to all the general Constituencies except a few of the Peshawar Division has issued on 25-3-1962. Immediately thereafter each Returning Officer will issue a notice under Article 10 of the National and Provincial Assemblies (First Elections) Order, 1962 inviting nominations to be delivered to him at a place to be specified and between 9 A.M. and 5 P.M. on the nomination day (being the 4th of April) for the general seats of the National Assembly, and each of the Provincial Assemblies, mentioned above. This notice must issue at the latest on 27-3-1962 and be displayed on the Returning Officer's Office Notice Board and be published locally in a suitable manner. The notification with regard to the excepted constituencies of Peshawar Division will be issued on 30-3-1962 and the notification by the Returning Officers of those Constituencies should issue on 31-3-1962.

Before the nomination day the Returning Officer will have received two authenticated copies of the Electors' List for the constituency from the Registration Officer. These will be for his reference.

The nomination will be filed in a prescribed form printed copies of which will be supplied to the Returning Officer. If the printed copies fall short, or are not available, manuscript copies may be used. The price to be charged for each printed form is -/1/. Along with the filled in form a certificate will be filed. This certificate will be signed by the Chairman of a local council or by a gazetted officer saying that the candidate is a citizen of Pakistan, not of unsound mind and is a resident in some part of Pakistan. The proposer will certify on the nomination form that the candidate is qualified to seek election to the constituency concerned.

The Returning Officer will check the nomination form entries and the accompanying certificate and have the entries in the form corrected if necessary. It should be ensured that in the case of the Assembly of a Province, the candidate is certified to be a resident within that Province. He will then enter the date and time of receipt on the nomination form under his signature and give a receipt to the person presenting the nomination paper. That person will also be informed of the time, date and place of the scrutiny.

A deposit in cash or a receipt showing the deposit (Rs. 1,000 in the case of a National Assembly seat and Rs. 500 in the case of a Provincial Assembly seat) will accompany the nomination form or forms of each candidate. If received in cash, the money should be deposited in the Government Treasury under the Head mentioned in the form of the Deposits Register prescribed by Rules (Form II) and a receipt given in the printed form as supplied to the Returning Officer. A notice listing all the nomination papers received and containing the same description of the candidate, his proposer and seconder as in the nomination paper should be displayed on the Notice Board of the office of the Returning Officer.

On the date fixed for scrutiny, at the appointed time and at the appointed place, the nomination papers filed previously will be scrutinised in the presence of such of the candidates, their election agents, proposers, seconders and other persons authorised by the candidates as may be present. All the nomination papers belonging to a candidate will be scrutinised before those of another candidate. It may be an advantage to take up the scrutiny in alphabetical order of the names of the candidates. If a nomination paper is not summarily rejected for non-compliance of any of the provisions of Articles 11 and 12 of the National and Provincial Assemblies (First Elections) Order, 1962 it may be rejected only on consideration of any objection raised on behalf of a candidate. Every objection should be considered and a summary enquiry held if necessary; the decision should be recorded briefly mentioning the objection, if any, and the finding in writing on the back of the nomination paper under the Returning Officer's signature. The rejection of one nomination paper shall not invalidate the nomination of a candidate by any other valid nomination paper. An extra amount of care will be needed in case all the nomination forms filed on behalf of a candidate are found unacceptable. No nomination need be rejected on grounds other than of a substantial character and if it is possible to correct any entry in the nomination form such a correction may be done forthwith. In this connection attention is invited to Provisos (i) and (ii) of Article 13 of the Law.

At the close of scrutiny a list of validly nominated candidates should be prepared in alphabetical order (in English) wherein the names of the validly nominated candidates should be entered in block letters (correct spellings) along with the father's or husband's name, and address of each candidate and a serial number allotted to each in the order in which the names appear. The list should be signed by the Returning Officer and dated. A copy be sent to the Election Commission and another to the Regional Election Commissioner by Express Delivery.

In case there is only one candidate validly nominated, he should be declared elected and the Election Commission and the Regional Election Commissioner informed telegraphically.

The Returning Officer shall announce by public notice the time on the withdrawal date before which any candidature may be withdrawn. This will, of course, not be necessary in the case of an unopposed return.

Withdrawal notices may be received upto the close of the time fixed for the withdrawal date. The Returning Officer shall on receiving a notice of withdrawal cause notice thereof to be affixed on his notice board if he is satisfied that the signature on the notice is that of the candidate. A list of contesting candidates should be drawn up afresh in the same manner as the list of validly nominated candidates. If the withdrawals, or subsequent retirement leave only one contesting candidate in the field, he should be declared elected unopposed and the procedure for it followed as in para above.

A very important duty of the Returning Officer is in connection with the ballot papers for his constituency. These papers can be printed only after the list of contesting candidates is known. Immediately after the list is prepared on the withdrawal day a copy signed by the Returning Officer should be sent by special messenger to the Regional Election Commissioner. Simultaneously, an express telegram should be sent to the Reioginal Election Commissioner, giving the names of candidates who have withdrawn and also mentioning the names of candidates who remain in the contest.

While the Returning Officers should send individual telegrams, the letters from the Returning Officers of a District may all be collected by the Deputy Commissioner and sent through one messenger. In case such a procedure is likely to cause delay due to late receipt from a particular Returning Officer that Officer may send his letter directly.

A list of symbols to be used on the ballot papers will be communicated to the Returning Officers. This list will be arranged in alphabetical order of the names of the symbols. The list of candidates also being arranged alphabetically by the Returning Officer, the serial number of a candidate on the list of contesting candidates will also be the serial number of the symbol to be allotted to that particular candidate. At the close of the withdrawal day, therefore, the symbols allotted to the candidates should be announced and the text of this announcement should be attached to the copy of the list sent to Regional Election Commissioner so that the announced symbols may be printed against the corresponding names.

The point is to see that the lists of the names of contesting candidates are received by Regional Election Commissioner immediately to allow of printing of the names and symbols on the ballot papers and for the receipt back of the printed ballot papers and their distribution to the Presiding Officers. The special messenger should wait and take instructions from the Regional Election Commissioner for the date of return with the printed ballot papers.

There is very little time between withdrawals and the polling day. Care must, therefore, be taken to see that the list of contesting candidates and the symbols announced for them are sent in the quickest manner possible and the printed ballot papers taken delivery of without delay.

It is the duty of the Returning Officer to make all arrangements for taking the poll. This includes specially the location of polling stations in suitable buildings not being police buildings or buildings under the control or influence of a candidate or a partisan. The area of the constituency will be suitably divided into sectors each of which will be attached to one such polling station. Care should be taken that the electors from a union council, union committee or town committee are not attached to different polling stations and that the convenience of electors is kept in view otherwise also. Normally, each Tehsil/Thana Headquarters should have a polling station. If a Tehsil/Thana is split between two or more constituencies the portion which includes the Headquarters can still have its polling station there. The polling station for the other part should be within that part itself at the Headquarters of the thana or other suitable place. In case a Tehsil/Thana is considered too big for one polling station there may be an additional polling station in a suitable place. In Kalat Division it may not be necessary to have more than one polling station for a District. The number of polling stations in a constituency will depend entirely on local conditions and convenience.

A list of polling stations suggested by the Returning Officers should be sent to the Election Commission who may alter them suitably and will publish the finalised list in the Official Gazette. A copy should be sent to the R.E.C. Publication has to be done not later than 15 days before the poll. The list should therefore be prepared and sent to the Regional Election Commissioner and the Commission as soon as possible and not later than 1-4-1962 in any case.

The Returning Officer should see that the buildings selected for polling stations are suitable, that suitable persons are appointed as Presiding and polling Officers and that generally the arrangements at each polling station are adequate. Wide publicity should be given to the list of polling stations and the buildings to be so used as also to the lists of union councils, union committees and town committees attached to each Polling station. He should see that the Presiding and Polling Officers understand their duties fully and that peaceful polling is ensured. It will also be his duty to see that all the requisite material is collected and is made available in time and that ballot papers, ballot boxes, copies of electors' lists and stationery and forms are available as required and given over to the Presiding Officers under certificates of receipt. He should furnish a similar certificate to the Regional Election Commissioner in turn by 20-4-1962 latest.

It is the duty of the Returning Officer to arrange to exhibit prominently at each polling station the serial number and symbol of each candidate for the seat from the constituency.

He should also see that the Presiding and Polling Officers understand the operation of the ballot box each of which has a copy of the printed instructions sent with it. He will maintain a reserve of ballot boxes with the Deputy Commissioner and draw on it if necessary. Sufficient number of boxes should be available at each polling station to take care of emergencies.

The Presiding and Polling Officers should also understand the procedure for poll for which any point that may arise should be clarified by the Returning Officer. An attempt will be made to supply in time sufficient copies of the Laws and Rules as also of instructions for all concerned.

During the time fixed for the poll the Returning Officer's movements should be known to the Presiding Officers so that he can be contacted in case of necessity.

The Presiding Officers will have held the preliminary count immediately after the poll and sent the results and records etc., thereafter. The Returning Officer has to conduct the final count. Precise arrangements should be made for transport to and from the polling stations under escort. The date and time for the count by the Returning Officer should be fixed and published in advance and all concerned informed. The count should be held as fixed under the provisions of Article 37 of the National and Provincial Assemblies (First Elections) Order, 1962 and the result declared and sent to the Election Commission and Regional Election Commissioner by express telegrams immediately after the declaration. Any objection to the count finally made should be recorded and mentioned in the telegrams.

A full report on the election in the constituency should be forwarded as soon after the poll as possible. It is important for each Returning Officer, if he is not the Deputy Commissioner himself, to keep in direct touch with the Deputy Commissioner so that the maintenance of law and order may be ensured and any help needed on the spot be made available.

The Returning Officer must ensure that the secrecy of voting is not violated and that all officials on election duty maintain strict impartiality and the Presiding Officers report to him any cases of undue influence or interference with voting rights. This should be confirmed in the Report to be sent by the Returning Officer.

No elector should be issued a ballot paper if he has not taken the oath either already or as administered by the Presiding Officer. The elector's statement that he has taken the oath should suffice to show that the oath has already been taken. In cases where a Presiding Officer administers the oath he should do so in the language which the elector understands and the fact should be certified to under the Presiding Officer's signature on the elector's identity card if such a card is produced.

The provisions of law in case of death of a candidate should be noted. The relevant provisions are given in Article 16 of the President's Order No. 4 of 1962.

These instructions are not meant to be exhaustive, if there is any point on which further clarification is required a reference may be made otherwise the law and the rules, combined with these instructions, will be sufficient guidance.

APPENDIX VII

INSTRUCTIONS FOR REGISTRATION OFFICERS

There shall be a Registration Officer for each constituency provided that the same person may be Registration Officer for two or more constituencies.

2. The immediate duty of a Registration Officer is to compile and print the list of Electors for his constituency and then to arrange to supply these lists to the officials and other persons who require them either for their official use or for personal information. In the latter case the copies will be supplied against prescribed payment.

3. Each Deputy Commissioner has already compiled the list of Electors for his District. The Registration Officer should take from this list the portion that covers his constituency. If the constituency covers two Districts the Registration Officer will get his complete list from the two Deputy Commissioners.

4. The form in which the constituency list is to be prepared is attached. It should be carefully studied and followed in all details. The names of persons and places should be written correctly and the Union Councils, Union Committees and Town Committees should be entered in alphabetical order (in English), for each $\frac{\text{Tehsil}}{\text{Thana.}}$ Under each such Union Council, Union Committee or Town Committee the names of Electors should again be arranged alphabetically in English. The entries (of name of elector only) in $\frac{\text{Urdu}}{\text{Bengali}}$ should be written immediately opposite the corresponding English entry in the column provided. At the end of the constituency list a summary should be appended as shown in the prescribed form under the Registration Officer's or Assistant Registration Officers' signature and seal.

5. The final Delimitation of Constituencies will be published on 24th March, 1962. The finalised extent of each constituency will be intimated to the concerned Registration Officer, who should, however, not wait for this but should proceed on the basis of what appears in the Press on 24th March, 1962 or 25th March, 1962.

6. This work must be done most expeditiously and one copy of the complete list for the constituency should be made available for public inspection at the office of the Registration Officer on 26th March, 1962 positively. The law requires that the list should be published within the constituency. If the Registration Officer's Office is not located within the constituency, the list should also be published by being put up for public inspection at a suitable place within the constituency. 100 copies of the list should be printed, two copies sent to the Election Commission andtwo to the Regional Election Commissioner of the Province concerned. The Returning Officer should be given two copies and each polling station (Presiding Officer) should get two copies of that part of the list which is required for that polling station. (The copies meant for the Presiding Officers should be handed over to the Returning Officer). If the relevant portion cannot be separated, a red pencil should be run through the portion which does not refer to that polling station. The Registration Officer will check carefully that the portion required for the polling station has not been crossed out and that the portion not crossed out represents the whole area covered by the polling station. He should then mark the Polling Station name and number in his own hand and under his signature on each copy. The list of polling stations for the constituency should be obtained from the Returning Officer appointed for the constituency.

7. While the copies are being printed, care should be taken to see that the printing is done most accurately and no mistakes are allowed. Any mistakes found on comparison in the printed copies must be corrected under the signature and official seal of the Registration Officer.

8. The printed copies should be available for sale by the 1st April at the latest. This is imperative as the date for nominations to the National and the Provincial Assemblies is the 2nd of April. The lists may be suitably priced according to the scale suggested in para 12 below. Please send a telegram on 31st March confirming that the printed copies have been despatched to the Election Commission and the Regional Election Commissioner and are also ready for sale. A telegram be also sent on 26th March, 1962 saying that a manuscript copy has been made available for public inspection at the Registration Officer's office. Both telegrams should quote the relevant constituency numbers.

9. A Registration Officer once appointed shall continue as such even after the forthcoming elections. He should, therefore, keep all papers and records carefully and inspect them periodically. Funds placed at his disposal for printing etc., should be accounted for soon after the elections.

10. The printing of the name of an Elector in Urdu should be in Arabic script. The lists will be printed in English except for the names which will be in English and Urdu in West Pakistan and in English and Bengali in East Pakistan as indicated above.

11. Before the list is taken from the Deputy Commissioner it should be checked that the Deputy Commissioner has certified on the list that it contains the names of all members of Union Councils, Union Committees and Town Committees who have been elected and gazetted as such upto 24th March, 1962 within the area of the constituency. Nominated members are not eligible and should not be brought on to the list nor are members of $\frac{\text{Tehsil}}{\text{Thana,}}$ District or Divisional Councils so eligible unless they are elected members of Union Councils, Union Committees or Town Committees. In the latter case their names will appear in the lists only as elected members of the lowest tier. No person's name should appear twice on the list and except for vacant seats, which should be indicated as vacant, no person's name should be omitted if he is eligible on 24th March, 1962. This will need to be checked. A sample filled in page is attached for reference.

12. The Registration Officer will have his constituency list printed locally. The printed copies may be sold at a flat rate of 2 annas per page. If the printing is on both sides it will count as two pages. If a page is not fully printed that will also count as a page for purposes of calculation of the price. The sale proceeds should be deposited under the Head "XLVI—MISCELLANEOUS— MISCELLANEOUS OTHER ITEMS—ELECTION RECEIPTS".

13. To meet the expenditure involved in printing a sum of Rs. 300/- per constituency is being made available through the Deputy Commissioners. In case of East Pakistan the roll for each Provincial Constituency will be printed in 200 copies and for purposes of a National Contituency 100 copies of each of the two relevant Provincial Constituency lists will be tacked together to form the copies required for that National constituency under the signature and seal of the Registration Officer of the constituency indicating clearly the number and name of the National constituency. The expenditure in this behalf will be, therefore, less. A sum of Rs. 800/- for every two Provincial Constituencies is being allotted for East Pakistan through the Deputy Commissioners.

APPENDIX XI

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PRESIDING OFFICERS

A Presiding Officer is the officer incharge of the Polling Station to which he is assigned by the Returning Officer of a constituency. He will be appointed in writing under the signature of the Returning Officer from whom he derives his authority.

Amongst the duties of the Presiding Officer are :—

(i) Receipt, after verification and check, of all requisite material for the polling station,

(ii) The maintenance of law and order at the polling station,

(iii) Conduct of poll in an orderly manner and in strict compliance with the law, rules and instructions issued in that behalf,

(iv) Verification of each elector's particulars with the corresponding entries in the Electors' List,

(v) Disposal of all objections and challenges by the candidates or their agents as laid down in the law, rules or instructions, and the administration of oath before issue of ballot paper to such electors as have not previously taken the oath, and

(vi) Rendering of account of ballot papers and submission of other statements and ballot papers etc., to the Returning Officer and safe custody and transport of all documents, records and material.

The following instructions are issued in this behalf :—

As soon as you receive your appointment letter you should study carefully the National and Provincial Assemblies (First Elections) Order and the Rules under that Order which will also have been supplied to you. From these you will know what you are expected to do at the time of the poll.

You should then find out who the other officials appointed for your polling station are. One of the polling officers so appointed will act for you in case of your absence from your table at the polling station. You two should discuss the arrangements with your Returning Officer who will be able to clarify for you any points which you may like to raise.

You will presumably know the building which will be your polling station. If you do not, it will be an advantage if you visit the place and work out the arrangements which you would like made. You should then ensure that these arrangements will have been made in time for the poll.

The Returning Officer will hand over to you, under receipt, the material you require. This will include ballot boxes, ballot papers, copies of Electors' List, forms, stationery etc. The material must be complete in all details. Sealing wax and seals, pencils, all Forms etc. must be checked thoroughly.

In particular you must check the 2 copies of the Electors' List and see that if they are copies of the complete constituency list, that the entries which do not relate to your polling station are scored out under the Returning Officer's signature and that the entries not scored out relate to all the electors who have to vote at your polling station. The Returning Officer should give you a list of the Union Councils, Union Committees and Town Committees the electors from where are to vote at your polling station and you will check this list with the entries in the Electors' List. The List to be used by you must be supplied by your Returning Officer under his signature. You may not use any other copy.

You should learn carefully the operation of the ballot box in accordance with the printed instructions sent with the boxes. You and your Polling Officers should all rehearse the operation of the box and in case any particular box is not working properly you should replace it from those kept in reserve with the Returning Officer. You should instruct the Electors present at the commencement of the poll about the correct manner of marking the ballot paper. The mark to be made shall be X and must be made only with a pencil provided by you. You must make sure that all the pencils provided at the polling station mark in the same colour and are all copying pencils.

You should also display the posters showing the correct manner of marking the ballot paper and showing the symbols and names of candidates prominently at the polling station.

When it is time for the commencement of the poll you have to show the empty ballot box, which you will use, to the candidates or their agents. The box will then be closed and kept in the position where the slit is open and the box closed and sealed. The box should be placed on your table where you, and the candidates or their agents, can see the ballot paper being put into the ballot box by the voter.

The voters assembled at the Polling Station should be asked to form a queue if there are more than a handful of persons at any time. They should be admitted one at a time and the identity of each checked. Each voter will have his identity card, with his photograph or at least his signature or thumb impression on it, issued previously by the Provincial Government. It is, however, not obligatory for an elector to bring his identity card. Every elector should be asked his name which should tally with the entry on the identity card and on the Electors' List. In case of any doubt or in case the voter's identity is challenged by the agent of any candidate you should hold a summary inquiry and satisfy yourself that the person is the same whose name is entered in the Electors' List and the identity card. If you are so satisfied you should then tick off the entry in the Electors' List under your initials and issue him a ballot paper on the back of which, in the centre, you should put your signature and the official mark. On the counterfoil of the ballot paper you should note down the serial number of the entry and also initial the counterfoil and stamp it with the official mark. Care should be taken to see that the official mark stamped on the counterfoil does not leave a mark on the ballot paper by the side of the counterfoil. The Elector will also put his signature or thumb impression on the counterfoil. In case a candidate or his agent challenges the identity of an elector even after you are satisfied about his identity you should make a note on the counterfoil. Before the ballot paper is issued however, you should check from his identity card whether the voter has taken the oath as prescribed in the Constitution. If he has taken the oath there will be an entry to that effect on the identity card. If he has not done so you should administer the oath to him before the ballot paper is given to him. In either case you should initial against the appropriate entry on the counterfoil ("oath taken previously" or "oath now taken"). If he refuses to make the oath while stating that he has not taken the oath earlier he should not be given a ballot paper and the case should be reported to the Returning Officer. It should be noted that any person who applies for a ballot paper for the purpose of voting without having taken the oath commits an offence.

After receiving the ballot paper the voter should proceed to a compartment set aside for marking the ballot paper. Only one voter should be allowed in the compartment at a time and nobody else should be present with him. The compartment will have a table and a copying pencil or two so fixed that they cannot be easily removed to enable the voter to mark the ballot paper. You may, if the elector so desires, explain how the ballot paper should be marked but not in such a way as to find out from him the name of the candidate for whom he is going to vote. The Elector should be asked to mark the ballot paper and then to fold it in such a way that his marking is not visible from outside. He will then come back and insert the ballot paper through the slit into the ballot box in your presence and in the presence of the agents of the candidates. The Elector may, if so required by you or by one of the agents, be asked to show to you the signature that you have appended, and the official mark, at the back of the ballot paper before he inserts the paper into the box but not in such a way as to disclose to anyone his marking against a candidate's name. If any Elector does not insert the ballot paper issued to him in the box and walks away with it, he will be guilty of an offence under article 66 or 68 of the National and Provincial Assemblies (First Elections) Order.

In case a candidate spoils his ballot paper and asks for a replacement you may, on being satisfied, that he has spoilt the ballot paper inadvertantly, issue him a fresh ballot paper just as you issued the first one and take back the spoilt ballot paper to be accounted for later as such.

If a ballot box is so full that it cannot take any more ballot papers and there are still some electors who have not yet voted, you will close that box completely, keep it aside on your table and within your view and use another box in the same way as the first.

After all the voters who have reported for the issue of ballot papers to them have voted, the ballot box being used should be closed and kept on your table. All the ballot boxes used should then be opened and the ballot papers taken from them counted. You should first count all the ballot papers taken out from the boxes and tally them with the number issued. You should then proceed to inspect the ballot papers carefully and take aside such as are not clearly marked in favour of any candidate. These you should seal separately in a packet as "doubtful votes". The others should be sorted out candidate-wise and the votes thus cast in favour of each candidate should be sealed in a separate packet. The used Electors' List and the counterfoils of the used ballot papers should be sealed in yet another separate packet. All the sealed packets may bear the signature of the candidates or their agents, if they so desire and also their seals along with your own signature and seal. Simultaneously you are required to prepare certain statements as per article 35 of the National and Provincial Assemblies (First Elections) Order. These statements and sealed packets and the ballot boxes should be sent by the quickest means of transport, which should have been arranged previously, to the Returning Officer under escort. The candidates or their agents will be entitled to take copies of the ballot paper count. The poll should then be declared closed and your staff can disperse from the polling station.

You should note carefully that the maintenance of law and order at the polling station is your responsibility and the police and other persons that may be posted by the Deputy Commissioner will be under your orders. The relevant portion of the law on the subject is contained in article 30 of the National and Provincial Assemblies (First Elections) Order.

At the close of the poll you should make out a report of the entire polling at your station. This report should be sent to the Returning Officer and should contain besides other factual material mention of any attempts at illegal or corrupt practice and any disorderliness and the action taken.

ELECTION COMMISSION, PAKISTAN

NOTIFICATION

Karachi, the 1*st May* 1962

No. F. 2(42)/62-ELS.—In pursuance of the provisions of Article 169 of the Constitution and article 45 of the National and Provincial Assemblies (First Elections) Order, 1962 (President's Order No. 4 of 1962), the Election Commission is pleased to issue the following Directions for elections to the seats exclusively reserved for women:—

1. List of voters:

(1) A list of persons elected as members of a Provincial Assembly shall be prepared from the gazette notifications declaring the result of elections to the general seats in the Provincial Assembly and shall be the list of voters for elections to the seats in the Provincial Assembly exclusively reserved for women.

(2) The list mentioned in sub-paragraph (1) with the names of persons elected to the reserved seats in the Provincial Assembly added thereto, shall be the list of voters for elections to the seats in the National Assembly exclusively reserved for women.

(3) Each person whose name appears in the lists referred to in sub-paragraphs (1) and (2) shall be deemed to be a voter.

(4) For each zone the list shall be maintained separately and shall consist of;

(a) the persons elected to the Provincial Assembly constituencies within that zone; and

(b) in the case of a zone for a National Assembly seat it shall include the names of women elected to the Provincial Assembly and allotted by the Chief Election Commissioner in pursuance of the power conferred by the President's Order No. 16 of 1962 to the zone concerned for the purpose of voting.

2. Notification for Election:

For purposes of election to the reserved seats in an Assembly the Commission shall, by notification, prescribe the programme for the election.

The notification shall also invite nominations.

3. Appointment of Returning Officers:

The Regional Election Commissioner in the Province shall be the Returning Officer. The Commission may appoint such other persons as Assistant Returning Officers as may be necessary.

4. Polling Stations and Polling Officers:

The Commission shall fix the place where and the date and time when the elections will be held.

The Commission may appoint such Polling Officers as may be necessary.

5. Nominations:

(1) Any member, of the Electoral College of Pakistan as constituted under clause (2) of Article 229 of the Constitution, from within the zone (the constituency for a seat exclusively reserved for women) may nominate and any other such person may second the nomination of any woman for election to the seat reserved for the zone in the National Assembly or the Provincial Assembly, as the case may be.

Every nomination shall be made by a separate nomination paper in the same form as is prescribed for the general seats and shall contain a certificate signed by the proposer that the person nominated has consented to the nomination.

(2) Every nomination paper shall be accompanied by a certificate required under the Chief Election Commissioner's notification No. F.1 (5)/62-Els., dated the 7th day of March, 1962, and shall be delivered on or before the nomination day to the Returning Officer by the candidate or her proposer or seconder at the office of the Returning Officer between 9 A.M. and 4 P.M.

(3) A person may be nominated for the same zone by more than one nomination paper, provided that no person shall subscribe more than one nomination paper, either as proposer or seconder, and if any person subscribes more than one nomination paper all such nomination papers after the first received by the Returning Officer shall be void.

(4) On the delivery to the Returning Officer of a nomination paper he shall—

(a) acknowledge in writing the receipt thereof;

(b) satisfy himself that the names and other particulars of the proposer and seconder shown in the nomination paper are the same as are shown in the Electors' List prepared under article 4 of the National and Provincial Assemblies (First Elections) Order, 1962; and

(c) permit any error in the nomination paper in regard to the name or other particulars of any person to be corrected in order to bring it in conformity with the corresponding entries in the Electors' List and, if necessary, direct any clerical or printing error in any such entry to be overlooked.

(5) The Returning Officer shall endorse on the nomination paper the name of the person presenting it and the date and time of its receipt and notify to such person the time and place at which the Returning Officer shall hold the scrutiny.

(6) The Returning Officer shall cause to be fixed at some conspicuous place in his office a notice of every nomination paper received by him containing the same particulars of the candidate, his proposer and seconder as are shown in the nomination paper.

6. Deposit :

(1) Subject to the provisions of sub-paragraph (2), no nomination paper shall be accepted unless,—

(a) in the case of a seat in the National Assembly, a sum of one thousand rupees, and in the case of a seat in a Provincial Assembly, a sum of five hundred rupees, is deposited in cash by the candidate or by any person on her behalf at the time of delivery of the nomination paper; or

(b) a nomination paper is accompanied by a receipt showing that a sum as aforesaid has been deposited by the candidate or by any person on her behalf at any branch of the National Bank of Pakistan or at a Government treasury or sub-treasury.

(c) each such deposit will be accounted for in the same way as per Rule 4 of the National and Provincial Assemblies (First Elections) Rules, 1962.

(2) Not more than one deposit under sub-paragraph (1) shall be required in the case of any person who has been nominated as a candidate by more than one nomination paper.

7. Scrutiny:

(1) The candidates, their proposers and seconders and one other person authorised in this behalf by each candidate may attend the scrutiny of the nomination papers. The Returning Officer shall give them reasonable opportunity for examining the nomination papers delivered to him.

(2) The Returning Officer shall in the presence of the persons attending the scrutiny examine the nomination papers and decide any objection made to any nomination.

(3) The Returning Officer may, either of his own motion or upon any objection, conduct such summary inquiry as he may think fit and reject any nomination paper if he is satisfied that—

(a) the candidate is not qualified to fill the seat for which she has been nominated;

(b) the proposer or the seconder is not qualified to subscribe to the nomination paper;

(c) any provision of paragraph 5 or paragraph 6 has not been complied with; or

(d) the signature of the proposer or the seconder is not genuine ;

Provided that—

(i) the rejection of a nomination paper shall not invalidate the nomination of a candidate by any other valid nomination paper; and

(ii) the Returning Officer shall not reject a nomination paper on the ground of any defect which is not of a substantial character, and may allow any such defect to be remedied forthwith.

(4) The Returning Officer shall endorse on every nomination paper his decision, accepting or rejecting it, and shall, in the case of rejection, record a brief statement of reasons therefor, and give public notice of the time before which any candidature may be withdrawn on the withdrawal day. Within three days after scrutiny any candidate whose nomination paper has been rejected may file a review petition, addressed to the Election Commission, with the Regional Election Commissioner.

8. Withdrawal.

Any candidate may, by notice in writing, signed by the candidate herself and delivered to the Returning Officer either by such candidate in person or by an agent duly authorised in writing in this behalf, before 2 P.M. on the day previous to the polling day withdraw her candidature. The notice of withdrawal shall not be open to cancellation.

9. Uncontested elections:

If after scrutiny the Returning Officer decides that only one person has been validly nominated for election to a seat for a zone, or if after any withdrawal only one person is left as a contesting candidate for a zone, the Returning Officer shall declare, by public notice, such candidate elected for that zone and submit a return of the election to the Commission:

Provided that in case of rejection of a nomination paper, no such declaration shall be made for a period of three days and if within that period a review petition is filed until that petition has been rejected.

The Commission shall publish in the official gazette the name of the returned candidate.

10. Poll:

(1) At the time and place fixed for the commencement of the poll the Returning Officer shall declare the names of the contesting candidates for each zone and shall ensure, in the presence of the voters present, that the ballot boxes to be used are empty and shall then seal them.

(2) Every voter shall cast his vote by means of a ballot paper. The ballot paper shall be in such form as may be specified by the Commission, provided that no ballot paper shall bear a number or any such mark as may distinguish one ballot paper from another.

(3) There shall be a ballot box for each zone which shall be placed on the table of the Returning Officer.

(4) The Returning Officer shall make such arrangements as shall ensure that every voter is able to mark his ballot paper in secret before it is folded and inserted in a ballot box.

(5) The Returning Officer shall satisfy himself that the persons who are present as voters are the same persons whose names have been gazetted as members elected to the Provincial Assembly. The Returning Officer shall permit the contesting candidates and one other person authorised by each such candidate to be present at the place of the poll.

(6) The ballot papers for a zone will be so coloured as to distinguish them from the ballot papers of another zone for the same Assembly.

(7) Before a ballot paper is issued to a voter the number, if any, and name of the voter entered in the gazette notification shall be entered on the counterfoil which shall be signed by the voter and initialled by the Returning Officer or by an Assistant Returning Officer or a Polling Officer authorised in this behalf.

(8) Each voter shall receive a ballot paper for the zone if the election to the seat in the zone is contested. He shall forthwith proceed to the place reserved for the marking of ballot papers and shall secretly put a cross mark in any form on the ballot paper against the name of the contesting candidate for whom he wishes to vote. The cross mark shall be made with a copying pencil or pen to be provided by the Returning Officer and not with any other pen or pencil or marking aid. He shall then fold the ballot paper and insert it in the ballot box of the zone.

(9) No voter shall cast a vote for more than one candidate in a zone or in more than one zone and if he does so, the votes cast by him shall be void.

(10) A voter who has inadvertantly so spoiled a ballot paper that it cannot be used as a valid ballot paper, may, on proving his inadvertance to the satisfaction of the Returning Officer, return the ballot paper so spoiled and obtain another ballot paper and cast the vote by such other ballot paper. The spoilt ballot paper shall be cancelled by the Returning Officer.

11. Procedure on the close of poll:

(1) After the voters present have cast their votes the Returning Officer shall proceed to open each ballot box in turn. After opening a ballot box, the ballot papers found therein shall be sorted out candidate-wise and counted. All such ballot papers on which the mark appears against more than one name or from which it is not clear for which candidate a voter has cast his vote or which does not bear any mark or bears a mark other than a cross mark shall be void and shall be rejected. Any such ballot paper from the marking on which the voter can be identified shall also be rejected.

(2) The Returning Officer shall prepare a statement for each zone showing the number of votes cast in favour of each candidate in that zone and shall also mention the number of votes rejected. He shall then declare the result in favour of the candidate who secures the highest number of votes amongst the candidates for that zone. In case of equality of votes he shall draw lots and declare the person on whom the lot falls as having been elected.

(3) After declaring the result for one zone the Returning Officer shall proceed to count the votes for another zone and declare the result therefor and will continue with the counting of the votes until the results for all the zones are declared.

(4) The Returning Officer shall take into and keep in his custody all the ballot papers (issued or unissued), the lists of voters, spoiled ballot papers, the statements prepared by him and shall send to the Commission a statement showing the result of election for each zone.

(5) On receipt of the statement of result under sub-paragraph (4) the Commission shall publish in the official gazette the names of the returned candidates.

12. Return or forfeiture of deposit:

The deposit made on behalf of any candidate who secures less than one-eighth of the total number of votes cast for the zone shall be forfeited. In all other cases the amount of the deposit shall be refunded on application made in this behalf to the Regional Election Commissioner.

13. Meetings:

The Commission shall arrange to call one or more meetings for the candidates to address the voters and to be questioned by them and shall arrange for a person in a judicial service in Pakistan to preside over such a meeting or meetings. All the candidates for a zone shall be given equal opportunity to address the voters and to be questioned by them. The candidates for other zones, the representatives of the Press and such members of the public as may be allowed by the person presiding at the meeting may be present at any such meeting. Each candidate for a Provincial zone may address the gathering and be questioned by the voters. Each candidate for a Central zone may address the gathering and be questioned by the voters and by the candidates contesting for seats reserved in the Provincial Assembly. The person presiding at the meeting may disallow any question which in his opinion is calculated to scandalize a contesting candidate or is otherwise considered by him to be improper and may prohibit publication of any question put to a contesting candidate. Press reports shall be confined to statements of the factual position and shall not contain any reference to the questions which have been disallowed.

Provided, however, that a contesting candidate for a reserved seat may be questioned only by the voters of that zone and also provided that a contesting candidate for a reserved seat in the National Assembly may be questioned by such of the contesting candidates for seats reserved in the Provincial Assembly who are contesting a seat included in the zone for election to the National Assembly for the purpose of voting.

14. Election expenses:

Besides the deposit made at the time of nomination, a candidate may, in order to further her candidature, incur expenditure not exceeding two thousand rupees. Each candidate shall, within a week after the poll, file an affidavit before the Regional Election Commissioner, affirming that the expenditure incurred did not exceed the said limit.

15. Offences, penalties and disqualifications:

The provisions of Chapters VI and VII, except article 78, and articles 81(a) and 84 of Chapter VIII of the National and Provincial Assemblies (First Elections) Order, 1962 shall apply to the elections to the seats exclusively reserved for women.

16. The Commission may authorise the Chief Election Commissioner or any Member of the Commission to exercise and perform all or any of its powers and function under these Directions.

By order of the Election Commission,

A. MAJEED,

Secretary,

Election Commission, Pakistan.
